Waiver of 60-Day Rollover Requirement

Rev Proc. 2016-47

SECTION 1 PURPOSE

This revenue procedure provides guidance concerning waivers of the 60-day rollover requirement contained in §§ 402(c)(3) and 408(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code ("Code"). Specifically, it provides for a self-certification procedure (subject to verification on audit) that may be used by a taxpayer claiming eligibility for a waiver under §§ 402(c)(3)(B) or 408(d)(3)(I) with respect to a rollover into a plan or individual retirement arrangement ("IRA"). It provides that a plan administrator or an IRA trustee, custodian or issuer ("IRA trustee") may rely on the certification in accepting and reporting receipt of a rollover contribution. It also modifies Rev. Proc. 2003-16, 2003-4 I.R.B. 359, by providing that the Internal Revenue Service may grant a waiver during an examination of the taxpayer's income tax return. An appendix contains a model letter that may be used for self-certification.

SECTION 2 BACKGROUND

01 Sections 402(c)(3) and 408(d)(3) provide that any amount distributed from a qualified plan or IRA will be excluded from income if it is transferred to an eligible retirement plan no later than the 60th day following the day of receipt. A similar rule applies to § 403(a) annuity plans, § 403(b) tax-sheltered annuities, and § 457 eligible governmental plans. See §§ 403(a)(4)(B), 403(b)(8)(B), and 457(e)(16)(B).

02 Section 401(a)(31) requires that a plan qualified under § 401(a) provide for the direct transfer of eligible rollover distributions. A similar rule applies to § 403(a) annuity plans, § 403(b) tax-sheltered annuities, and § 457 eligible governmental plans. See §§ 403(a)(1), 403(b)(10), and 457(d)(1)(C). Section 1.401(a)(31)-1, Q&A-14, provides examples of situations in which a plan administrator may reasonably conclude that a contribution, whether made via a direct transfer or a 60-day rollover, is a valid rollover contribution to a § 401(a) or 403(a) plan. Several of the examples illustrate circumstances under which a plan administrator may rely on certain certifications and documentation that a rollover contribution that is not a direct transfer is being made no later than 60 days following receipt.

03 An IRA trustee reports a rollover contribution received during a year on a Form 5498, IRA Contribution Information, for that year.

Physiology of Cardiac Muscle

The heart is composed of three major types of cardiac muscle: atrial muscle, ventricular muscle, and special excitatory and conductive muscle fibers. The atrial and ventricular types of muscle contract in much the same way as skeletal muscle, except that the duration of contraction is much longer. The excitation and rhythm of the contractions, however, are entirely different, because the cardiac muscle fibers are highly excitable and because special excitatory and conductive muscle fibers are present in the heart. These control the rhythmic beating of the heart.

Physiologic Anatomy of Cardiac Muscle

Figure 9-2 shows the histology of cardiac muscle. Note that the cardiac muscle fibers are laid in a latticework with the fibers dividing, recombining, and then spreading again. One also notes immediately from this figure that cardiac muscle is striated, in the same manner as skeletal muscle. Further, cardiac muscle has typical myofibrils that contain actin and myosin filaments almost identical to those found in skeletal muscle. These filaments lie side by side and slide along one another during contraction. It is also known that cardiac muscle has a sarcotubular system (see Chapter 6). But in other ways, cardiac muscle is quite different from skeletal muscle, as we relate to use to provide Bell with up to date billing information and payment information

In order to effect to processing costs and to the extent permitted by applicable law, Bell may bill you for administrative charges as set by Bell from time to time for administrative or account activities including collection efforts due to non-payment or for having a balance over your credit limit returned or rejected payments changes in personal identifier information or suspension, disconnection or reset within/reconnection of the Bell Services All administrative fees charged to you are part of the Charges you owe to Bell under this Agreement.

Customers subscribing solely to Bell's residential local telephone service who purchase any additional product(s) or service(s) from Bell and/or its affiliated companies shall: (a) no longer be eligible for the then applicable CRTC approved maximum price for residential stand-alone primary exchange local telephone service (b) be subject to any future price increases for such residential local telephone service, and (c) be required to pay the then applicable cancellation fees (currently $50 subject to change) and any applicable administrative charges and/or early to migration fees to the extent permitted by applicable law if they cancel all of the additional product(s) or service(s) in order to be eligible for the then applicable CRTC approved maximum price for residential stand-alone primary exchange local telephone service.

3 Amendments/Changes to the Agreement. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law Bell may change the Bell Services and/or this Agreement, including any applicable Charges, fees (including one time fees) and/or any feature or other aspect of any of the Bell Services To the extent required by applicable law Bell will give you not less than 30 days notice in advance of the effective date of any change or amendment to the Agreement or of any additional charge to the Bell Services by posting a notice of such change on www.bell.ca, by mailing a notice to you, by sending a notice via Short Message or other messages on your monthly invoice, by sending you notice via email to the email address provided by you to Bell (in which case it is your responsibility to ensure that such email address remains current at all times) or by using any other and/or method that will likely come to your attention To the extent required by applicable law such notice shall set out the effective date of the amendment or change, the provision being made to the Agreement or any other related agreement it, if applicable, and your remedy in connection with such amendment or change as set out in the following sentence. Your sole remedy if you do not wish to accept such amendment or change (and if you reside in the province of Quebec, only where such amendment or change necessarily results in additional or different Bell's obligations) is to refuse the amendment or change and cancel the affected Bell Service(s) to which the amendment or change applies in accordance with Section 4 upon the payment of all outstanding Charges or any other fees that may apply except where such Charges or fees are prohibited by applicable law, in which case such cancellation shall be without cost, penalty or cancellation fee/penalty. If you have not paid the affected Bell Services after a change comes into effect then to the extent not prohibited by applicable law you expressly agree that: (a) you will be deemed to have accepted the change with no additional written agreement or express acknowledgement required; (b) specifically you waive all statutory requirements for notice and express acceptance of such change except for those provided in this section and (c) you will continue to owe and promise to pay the payment on the Bell Services.

4 Cancellation of Bell Services by Customer. To cancel a service, you may contact Bell at Bell Client Care (see Section 18) Cancellation takes effect 30 days after the date you contact Bell. You shall be charged and you shall pay the applicable Charges for that 30 day cancellation period

5 Termination of Bell Services by Bell. Bell may, without liability, stop providing you with any or all of the Bell Services and/or terminate this Agreement for any reason upon a minimum of 30 days prior written notice to you, or such longer period as may be required by applicable law If you breach any part of this Agreement Bell may to the extent permitted by applicable law and without liability: (a) enter your premises and take immediate possession of all Bell Equipment provided in connection with the Bell Services, or require you to promptly return it in proper working order and in good condition; (b) accelerate and bill all Charges and other amounts under this Agreement as due and owing as of the termination date and (c) terminate all Bell Services and this Agreement by written notice and specify a final payment date for all amounts that you owe to Bell that is at 10 days (or any other date permitted by law) from the date of the notice

6 Suspension of Bell Services. Upon reasonable notice to you, Bell may suspend any Bell Service for a breach of this Agreement. To the extent permitted by applicable law such suspension does not change your obligation to pay for the Bell Services during any suspension.

7 Special Payment Terms Deposits. In exceptional circumstances, Bell may require you to pay the Charges on an interim basis despite your monthly billing cycle. In such cases, you must pay on or before the return due date to avoid termination or suspension of your Bell Services. Bell may also require you to make deposits if you: (a) have no credit history with Bell and do not provide satisfactory credit information; (b) have an

Cavities

What are Cavities?

- There are different kinds of bacteria in the mouth, good and bad. Plaque made of and bacteria, is a colorless sticky film. Whenever we eat or drink anything that contains sugar or starches the bacteria turn them into an acid. Examples of sugary or starchy foods/drinks include candy bread pasta, milk, soda, fruit juice, and sports drinks.
- Throughout the day our teeth are always working tirelessly to fight against plaque and acids.

So How Do Cavities Form?

- When teeth are constantly exposed to acid attacks they begin to lose the minerals necessary to keep them healthy. After a while, the teeth begin to show white spots on them called demineralization.
- When constant acid exposure reaches the inner part of the tooth, the tooth has become decayed (cavity).
- If decay is not taken care of right away and makes its way into the nerve of the tooth, a root canal or a tooth extraction will need to be done.

What Can I do to Prevent Cavities?

- Brush 2 times a day with fluoride tooth paste and floss 1 time a day
- Visit your dentist every 6 months.
- Receive professional fluoride treatments
- Do not frequently drink sports drinks or soda pop.
- Use adult supervision while brushing for children to the age of 8.

Dear Resident

In the next few weeks all homes and businesses within 10 km of nuclear facilities will be receiving a package of potassium iodide (KI) pills in the mail. Your home or business will be one of them.

In the very unlikely event of a nuclear emergency KI pills would help prevent the development of thyroid cancer and are especially effective at safeguarding children's thyroid glands.

The Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission (CNSC) is the federal agency that monitors the safe operation of nuclear stations. It now requires that all homes and businesses within 10 km of a nuclear power station receive a supply of the pills.

Until now, KI pills have been available at select pharmacies. The CNSC now requires these be sent to every eligible home and business due to increased safety standards.

It is important for each household to have a supply of these pills because they are most effective if taken as quickly as possible in the event of exposure to radioactive iodine.

We want to assure you that the distribution of KI pills is not due to any change in the risk of a nuclear emergency and is not meant to cause alarm. We believe that staying safe means being prepared, even for the most unlikely of events.

If you have any questions or concerns, please visit www.preparetobesafe.ca. If you want to know more about this KI distribution program in Durham Region, please call 1-888-777-9613; in Toronto you may call 311.

For more information, you can also contact Telehealth Ontario at 1-866-797-0000.

Sincerely,

Commissioner and Medical Officer of Health

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax.Tov — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

Tables and Graphs (to be completed during the Organizing Data Section)
Draw any appropriate tables or graphs for your data. 10 points

Conclusion (to be completed during the Drawing Conclusions Section)
After conducting the experiment, how would you now explain the problem or answer the question raised when you described the purpose of the lab. Be sure to base your answer on the data you collected. Consider whether your conclusion is the only explanation for the data you collected or if there could be alternate explanations. 10 points

Assay Description and Limitations

Assay Description: [text illegible] is immunohistochemical assay for detection of HER2 protein overexpression in the above breast infiltrating carcinoma tissue specimen. Assay is performed on formalin-fixed, paraffin-embedded tissue sections using [illegible] monoclonal antibody. Results are interpreted according to manufacturer's instructions. Limitations: Incorrect fixation of tissue specimen may result in false-negative or false-positive results. Only [illegible] should be used for diagnosis of breast cancer patients. Assay validated on [illegible] tissue specimens. Clinical utility of positive and negative results has been established for breast cancer patients in trials [illegible] and [illegible]. Refer to package insert for instructions, warnings, precautions, and limitations.

Estrogen Receptor (ER): Immunohistochemical staining was performed on the above specimen using [illegible] monoclonal antibody. Results are interpreted according to manufacturer's instructions. Limitations: Incorrect fixation of tissue specimen may result in false-negative or false-positive results. Only [illegible] should be used for diagnosis of breast cancer patients. Assay validated on [illegible] tissue specimens. Clinical utility of positive and negative results has been established for breast cancer patients in trials [illegible] and [illegible]. Refer to package insert for instructions, warnings, precautions, and limitations.

Progesterone Receptor: [illegible] monoclonal antibody was used for the qualitative immunohistochemical staining of formalin-fixed, paraffin-embedded tissue sections. Results are interpreted according to manufacturer's instructions. Limitations: Incorrect fixation of tissue specimen may result in false-negative or false-positive results. Only [illegible] should be used for diagnosis of breast cancer patients. Assay validated on [illegible] tissue specimens. Clinical utility of positive and negative results has been established for breast cancer patients in trials [illegible] and [illegible]. Refer to package insert for instructions, warnings, precautions, and limitations.

Ki-67: [illegible] was used for qualitative and/or semi-quantitative immunohistochemical staining of Ki-67 antigen expression in formalin-fixed, paraffin-embedded tissue by automated immunostainer. Staining using the manufacturer's instructions.

p53: [illegible] monoclonal antibody was used for the qualitative and/or semi-quantitative immunohistochemical staining of human p53 protein in formalin-fixed, paraffin-embedded tissue sections. Results are interpreted according to manufacturer's instructions. Limitations: Incorrect fixation of tissue specimen may result in false-negative or false-positive results. Only [illegible] should be used for diagnosis of breast cancer patients. Assay validated on [illegible] tissue specimens. Clinical utility of positive and negative results has been established for breast cancer patients in trials [illegible] and [illegible]. Refer to package insert for instructions, warnings, precautions, and limitations.

The sun is sleeping quietly
Once upon a century
Wistful oceans calm and red
Ardent caresses laid to rest
For my dreams I hold my life
For wishes I behold my nights
A truth at the end of time
Losing faith makes a crime

I wish for this night-time to last for a life-time
The darkness around me - shores of a solar sea
Oh how I wish to go down with the sun
Sleeping
Weeping
With you

Sorrow has a human heart
From my God it will depart
I'd sail before a thousand moons
Never finding where to go
222 days of light
Will be desired by a night
A moment for the poet's play
Until there's nothing left to say

Dear Pete,

Permit me to introduce you to the facility of facsimile communication

In facsimile a photocell is caused to perform a raster scan over the subject copy The variations of print density on the document cause the photocell to generate an analogue electrical video signal This signal is used to modulate a carrier, which is transmitted to a remote destination over a radio or cable communications link

At the remote terminal, demodulation reconstructs the video signal which is used to modulate the density of print produced by a printing device This device is scanning in a manner scan synchronised with that at the transmitting terminal As a result, a facsimile copy of the subject document is produced.

Probably you have most for this facility in your organisation

Yours sincerely,

Phil.

Principles of manufacturing

- Kaizen - continuous improvements made by all people
- Six SIGMA - strive to near perfection - 3.4 defects per million opportunities
- Tolerance - variable resister
- Overhead - cost of running a business
- Net Value Added (NVA) - Generates negative return of investment for shareholders

Manufacturing Process

- Morality - Rules relating to right and wrong behavior
- Ethics - The Standards for ethical or moral behavior (engineering code of ethics)
- Cold working process - properties of material are changed via mechanical, thermal, or chemical means
- Die Casting - metal injected into mold under high pressure
- Electrical Discharge Machining - an electrode spark is used to erode small amts of material (EDM)
- Electrochemical machining - a stream of electrolyte (eg saltwater) is pumped at high pressure between the partially charged work and (-) charged tool
- Industrial Material - material that has been changed from raw to standards set by industry
- Photopolymer - material that uses light to initiate polymerization
- STEREOLITHOGRAPHY - 3d printing that hardens a photopolymer with a laser beam
- Primary processing - Raw materials into useable form
- Post processing - finishing models after being removed from a rapid prototyping machine
- Absolute - coordinates given in respect to origin
- Block - a single line of code
- Fixture - device to hold a piece of work for machining purposes
- Jig - Aids and locates a piece of work
- Model - information obtained by a system until parts is obtained
- NC code - Numerical control
- Parameter - e.g. a dimension
- Flexible manufacturing systems - Group of CNC machines that are integrated with auto material handling and control systems
- Servo motor - gives feedback
- Stepper motor - angular movements

G-Codes (Geometry)

G00 - Rapid Traverse
G01 - Linear interpolation
G02 Clockwise interpolation (CW)
G03 counterclockwise interpolation (CCW)
Ex G03 X1.2 I- J.3
G05 Future UNIT user specified
G70 - inch mode
G71 - mm mode

M-Codes (Miscellaneous)

M00 - end program
M03 - turn spindle on
M05 - Turn spindle off
M06 - Tool change

Spindle Speed

$$N = \frac{CS \cdot 12}{\pi \cdot d} \text{ in } \frac{rev}{min}$$

N = Spindle speed
CS = Cutting speed
d = diameter

Feed rate

$$fm = f_t \cdot n_t \cdot N$$

f_m = Feed rate in $\frac{in}{min}$
f_t = Feed in $\frac{in}{tooth\ rev}$
n_t = # teeth on tool
N = spindle speed

Plunge Feed Rate

$$pfr = \frac{f_m}{2} \text{ or } f_t \cdot \frac{n_t \cdot N}{2}$$

pfr = plunge feed rate in $\frac{in}{min}$
f_m = feed rate in $\frac{in}{min}$

Formulas

Power = $\frac{work}{time}$

P = voltage * amperage

Torque = Diameter * Force * sin θ

Power = $\frac{Torque \cdot rpm}{5252}$ pressure = $\frac{Force}{Area\ of\ base\ of\ fig}$

About
This utility is used to write img files to USB and SD memory devices.
Simply run the utility, point it at your img, and then select the removable device to write to.

This utility can not write CD-ROMs

Future releases and source code are available on our Sourceforge project page: http://sourceforge.net/projects/win32diskimager/

This program is Beta, and has no warranty. It may eat your files, call you names, or explode in a massive shower of code. The authors take no responsibility for these possible events.

Build Instructions
==================
Requirements
1. Nokia Qt SDK 1.2 (Mingw 4.8 snapshot available in the build tools directory at https://sourceforge.net/projects/win32diskimager/files/build%20tools/

Short Version
1. Install Nokia Qt Full SDK and use QT Creator to build. Included batch files no longer updated and may be deleted in the future

New Features
============
Build support for Qt 5.x (Mingw 4.8
Some additional language translations
New uses Inno Setup to create an installer

Known Issues
============
* Lack of helpful capabilities
* Lack of file compression support
* Does not work with USB Floppy drives

These are being looked into for future releases

Gathering Employee Information

To help you set up payroll, have each employee complete Form W-4 (attached). Use the completed form to record the employee's filing status and allowances for federal income tax withholding.

Also, have each employee complete an I-9 (attached). This federal form verifies the employee's eligibility to work in the U.S. Required: keep the completed form on file (you do not need to enter any information from the form in your payroll account).

Your state might require each employee to complete additional forms. For more information, click Taxes & Forms in the navigation bar at the top of the page, then click Employee Setup.

A LIMITED WARRANTY. If you follow the instructions and the software is properly licensed, the software will perform substantially as described in the Microsoft materials that you receive in or with the software.

B TERM OF WARRANTY; WARRANTY RECIPIENT; LENGTH OF ANY IMPLIED WARRANTIES. The limited warranty covers the software for one year after acquired by the first user. If you receive supplements, updates, or replacement software during that year, they will be covered for the remainder of the warranty or 30 days, whichever is longer. If the first user transfers the software, the remainder of the warranty will apply to the recipient.

To the extent permitted by law, any implied warranties, guarantees or conditions last only during the term of the limited warranty. Some states do not allow limitations on how long an implied warranty lasts, so these limitations may not apply to you. They also might not apply to you because some countries may not allow limitations on how long an implied warranty, guarantee or condition lasts.

C EXCLUSIONS FROM WARRANTY. This warranty does not cover problems caused by your acts (or failures to act), the acts of others, or events beyond Microsoft's reasonable control.

D REMEDY FOR BREACH OF WARRANTY. Microsoft will repair or replace the software at no charge. If Microsoft cannot repair or replace it, Microsoft will refund the amount shown on your receipt for the software. It will also repair or replace supplements, updates, and replacement software at no charge. If Microsoft cannot repair or replace them, it will refund the amount you paid for them, if any. You must reinstall the software and return any media and other associated materials to Microsoft with proof of purchase to obtain a refund. These are your only remedies for breach of the limited warranty.

E CONSUMER RIGHTS NOT AFFECTED. You may have additional consumer rights under your local laws, which this agreement cannot change.

F WARRANTY PROCEDURES. You need proof of purchase for warranty service.

1. United States and Canada. For warranty service or information about how to obtain a refund for software acquired in the United States and Canada, contact Microsoft at:

   (800) MICROSOFT

   Microsoft Customer Service and Support, One Microsoft Way, Redmond, WA 98052-6399, or visit http://www.microsoft.com/info/nareturns.htm

2. Europe, Middle East and Africa. If you acquired the software in Europe, the Middle East or Africa, Microsoft Ireland Operations Limited makes this limited warranty. To make a claim under this warranty, you should contact either:

   Microsoft Ireland Operations Limited, Customer Care Centre, Atrium Building Block B, Carmanhall Road, Sandyford Industrial Estate, Dublin 18, Ireland, or

Free Consultation and Price Quote Over the Phone – Call (206) 693-2363

Our experts will provide you with a free phone consultation to answer all of your questions and we will give you a Free Price Quote right over the phone.

Have You Noticed that the Other Walk In Tub Companies Will Not Provide Price Information Over the Phone?

To get any pricing info from them, you must first agree to have a high pressure sales person visit your home and give a nine presentation. At the end of this presentation, which usually lasts about two hours, the sales person will give you a price that will often times include a "Today Only" special discount that is only valid if you make the purchase during that visit. This high pressure sales tactic is designed to pressure customers into making a hasty decision, believing it will be the only way of getting a seemingly great deal before it expires. In truth, these customers end up spending thousands of dollars more than they should otherwise pay for a comparable tub.

To avoid this high pressure sales tactic and spending far too much for a walk in tub, consumer experts recommend being wary of companies that will not provide the pricing information you seek over the phone even if you are just looking for a ballpark dollar amount.

Lifetime Warranty!

Original Owner
Subject to Terms and Conditions

American Walk-In Tub Company's Diamond Elite Series tubs Manufactured by Boca Walk In Tubs are CERTIFIED Made in the USA, using only the best materials and quality workmanship. That allows for a True Lifetime Warranty on all parts, whether we install the tub for you, you install it or you have someone else install it.

Certified Made in the USA means that 100% of the parts are truly made here in the USA!

Most of the other walk in tub companies cannot be Certified Made in the USA because some or all of parts have been shipped in from overseas ...mainly from China. If you want your tub truly made here, check for this certification.

HYDROTHERAPY

Hydrotherapy involves the use of Air and/or water for soothing pains and treating diseases. Medical studies and testimonials have shown how Hydrotherapy is an affordable and reliable method of relieving many of the medical ailments Seniors today are living with.

The optional Air and/or Water Jet Massage System turns our Walk In Tub into a therapeutic bathtub spa, soothing tired muscles and aching joints, as well as relieving arthritis and joint discomfort. This will give you greater range of motion and freedom of movement while providing a luxurious bath experience.

Important Information About Your Rewards Program

With your Blue Cash from American Express Card, you earn a reward based on a percentage of the dollar amount of eligible purchases you make each billing period. On purchases in certain categories, called Everyday Purchases, you can earn a higher percentage reward. We are making changes to the Everyday Purchases on which you can earn higher percentage rewards. These changes are summarized below:

Effective with billing periods beginning on or after May 1, 2013, to earn higher percentage rewards for Everyday Purchases:
At supermarkets	The supermarket must be located in the United States. (Supercenters and warehouse clubs are not considered supermarkets.)
At gas stations	The gas station where you purchase gasoline must be located in the United States. (Supercenters, supermarkets and warehouse clubs that sell gasoline are not considered gas stations.)
At drugstores	The drugstore must be included on our list of select major drugstores, which is available at americanexpress.com/rewards-info, and must be located in the United States.

Please visit americanexpress.com/rewards-info for more information about rewards.

We determine if purchases qualify as Everyday Purchases by using merchant codes. Each merchant is typically assigned a code based on what they primarily sell. A purchase will not qualify as an Everyday Purchase and will not earn a higher percentage reward if the merchant uses a code that is not eligible to qualify as an Everyday Purchase.

See the changes to the Supplement to your Card member Agreement on the reverse side of this page.

ESFJ Extraverted Feeling with Sensing

ESFJ types like to put other people at ease. They are talkative, popular and genuinely convinced that rough times can be overcome if people work together. They put a lot of conscientious energy into making this happen. Natural hosts and hostesses, they pay attention to even the smallest detail to make people feel welcome.

Choosing a Major

- Like to have majors and career plans settled early
- Seek work in people-oriented fields serving others
- Frequently found in teaching, ministry selling, health care and any work where the tangible well-being of others can be served

Learning Style

- Think best while talking and greatly enjoy conversation
- Want theories and abstractions to be illustrated with human examples
- Report that college classes seem to be taught only for the better students
- Need harmony in their environment to concentrate effectively
- Interested in applying learning to serving others

Reading, Writing, Studying

- Often achieve beyond expectations by planning and follow-through
- Like to study in organized groups where students help one another
- May assume that everything they read is authoritative
- Write first drafts best if they are personalized showing what they care about with background facts and details
- Need to revise final drafts by stating a general thesis at the beginning and deleting many of the references to what they personally believe in

Playing

- Usually very involved in campus groups often as a leader, and like to attend activities with others
- With roommates like things settled and will work tirelessly to smooth out problems
- Report they have no trouble getting dates once a week or more
- May find it hard to relax until the job is done but enjoy working on behalf of others

Possible Causes of Stress

- May be sensitive to indifference from others
- May give their all in service and expect others to do the same
- May live too much by "shoulds"
- May take care of others and neglect own needs
- May try to help someone before finding out what they need

Dealing with Stress

- Naturally rely on family and friends
- Naturally give their personal best to any task
- Must be careful not to expect everyone else to share their high standards
- Pay close attention to own needs
- Ask others what they want before trying to help

How to Remove Wood Stain From Vinyl Siding

By Cathryn Whitehead
eHow Contributor

Pin Share Tweet Share Email

Vinyl siding is durable, easy to keep looking good, and holds its color well. It looks as good as new with a thorough washing once a year. But sometimes stains can discolor your vinyl siding and can be hard to remove without damaging or discoloring your siding. Stain can be spilled or splattered onto siding, and when you're staining an attached deck or a nearby fence, wind and weather can spread the stain to your vinyl siding. Wood stain is one of the most difficult stains to remove, but a variety of products will take wood stain off your vinyl siding without harming it.

Eye halve a spelling chequer
It came with my pea sea
It plainly marques four my revue
Miss steaks eye kin knot sea

Eye strike a key and type a word
And weight four it two say
Weather eye am wrong oar write
It shows me strait a weigh

As soon as a mist ache is maid
It nose bee fore two long
And eye can put the error rite
Its rare lee ever wrong.
Eye have run this poem threw it
I am shore your pleased two no
Its letter perfect awl the weigh

Hail Mary:

Today begins the 90th Anniversary of the apparition of the Virgin of Fatima :

When you receive this email say a Hail Mary and ask for a special favor.

"Hail Mary, full of grace. The Lord is with thee. Blessed art thou among women and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death, Amen.? (your request)

Please do not break the Novena , send it to 12 people you think deserve justice, peace, love, health, prosperity and truth. When you are down to nothing, God is up to something. This has been traveling since 5/13/07!

DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH

He was over 50 when we married, a bachelor without strings. He got a widow with a bright, difficult collegiate daughter, a brighter, even more difficult adolescent son, a ramshackle house, a distant mother-in-law, and even a cantankerous cat. For three years, the winds of chance have blown often and hard, but wherever they took us he has been there at my side. I have been promoted twice, the kids are on track, our new home is snug and cozy, my mother is happily settled nearby. And as for the cat, she sleeps on his feet, the most contented of us all.

Prepaid One-Day Permits

Buy prepaid One-Day permits for rental cars, guests, etc. when purchasing your annual parking permits or as you need them. These non-refundable permits offer flexibility and convenience by allowing you to scratch off the corresponding date on the permit when it is used.

If you currently have a vehicle in your name and address with a valid San Francisco residential parking permit you need only to submit this order form. If you do not have a vehicle in your name and address with a valid San Francisco residential parking permit you will need to submit current copies of two (2) of the following documents with resident's name and permit address:

- ☐ A current utility bill with resident's name and permit address (no cellphone bills)
- ☐ Vehicle insurance policy or card with resident's name and permit address
- ☐ Current rental lease agreement with resident's name and permit address

Tiered pricing rates for One-Day permits are listed below. A maximum of 20 permits per address may be purchased per calendar year.

Number of Permits per Calendar Year	Fee (Per Permit)	x	Quantity	= Amount Due
1st – 5th Permits	$6	x	_____	$_____
5th – 15th Permits	$8	x	_____	$_____
15th – 20th Permits	$11	x	_____	$_____

Pricing Examples and Totals:

1) Purchasing 7 permits

1st – 5th are priced at $6. The 6th and 7th are priced at $8.

Total purchase price ($ x $6) + (2 x $8) = $46

2) Purchasing 20 permits

1st – 5th are priced at $6. 6th – 15th are priced at $8. 16th – 20th are priced at $11

Total purchase price (5x$6) + (10 x $8) + (5 x $11) = $165

Death[edit]

Nelson dreaded flying but refused to travel by bus. In May 1985, he decided he needed a private plane and paid $118,000[93]for a historic propeller-driven, fourteen-seat 1944 Douglas DC-3 (N711Y) that had once belonged to the DuPont family and later to Jerry Lee Lewis. The plane had been plagued by a history of mechanical problems.[94] In one incident, the band was forced to push the plane off the runway after an engine blew, and in another incident, a malfunctioning magneto prevented Nelson from participating in the first Farm Aid concert in Champaign, Illinois.

On December 26, 1985, Nelson and the band left for a three-stop tour of the Southern United States. Following shows in Orlando, Florida, and Guntersville, Alabama, Nelson and band members took off from Guntersville for a New Year's Eve extravaganza in Dallas, Texas.[95] The plane crash-landed northeast of Dallas in De Kalb, Texas, in a cow pasture less than two miles from a landing strip, at approximately 5:14 p.m. CST on December 31, 1985, hitting trees on its way down. Seven of the nine occupants were killed. Nelson and his companion, Helen Blair, bass guitarist Patrick Woodward, drummer Rick Intveld, keyboardist Andy Chapin, guitarist Bobby Neal, and road manager/soundman Donald Clark Russell. Pilots Ken Ferguson and Brad Rank escaped via cockpit windows, though Ferguson was severely burned.[96][97]

Nelson's remains were misdirected in transit from Texas to California, delaying the funeral for several days. On January 6, 1986, 250 mourners entered the Church of the Hills for funeral services while 700 fans gathered outside. Attendees included 'Colonel' Tom Parker, Connie Stevens, Angie Dickinson, and dozens of actors, writers, and musicians. Nelson was privately buried days later in the Forest Lawn, Hollywood Hills Cemetery in Los Angeles. Kris Nelson threatened to sue the Nelson clan for her former husband's life insurance money and tried to wrest control of his estate from David Nelson, its administrator. Her bid was rejected by a Los Angeles Superior Court judge. Nelson bequeathed his entire estate to his children and did not provide for Kris Nelson. Only days after the

Jelly Doughnuts Recipe

There's no need to run to the bakery for delicious jelly doughnuts. These sweet treats are lighter than air. I've been filling them for 25 years for my husband, our two daughters and their families. They disappear almost as fast as I make them.—Kathy Wankendorf, Westgate, Iowa

TOTAL TIME: Prep: 30 min. Cook: 10 min. YIELD: 16 servings

Ingredients

2 packages (1/4 ounce each) active dry yeast

1/2 cup warm water (110° to 115°)

1/2 cup warm 2% milk (110° to 115°)

1/3 cup butter, softened

1-1/3 cups sugar, divided

2 egg yolks

1 teaspoon salt

3 to 3-3/4 cups all-purpose flour

2 tablespoons jelly or jam

1 egg white, lightly beaten

Oil for deep-fat frying

Directions

1. In a small bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. In a large bowl, combine milk, butter, 1/3 cup sugar, egg yolks, salt, yeast mixture and 2 cups flour; beat until smooth. Stir in enough remaining flour to form a soft dough (do not knead).
2. Place in a greased bowl, turning once to grease top. Cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled, about 45 minutes.
3. Punch dough down. Turn onto a lightly floured surface; knead about 10 times. Divide dough in half.

My name is Jason. Iâ€™m working for a web development company and I m also into freelancing projects mainly based on search engine optimization and online reputation
While I was looking for one of my client s profile online I have noticed that you could use some help managing your online presence

The online reviews have a direct and measurable impact on your practice; in fact, 97% of internet users are researching the web before making decisions. If they see anything negative – true or not (unethical competition slander or hateful) – they will go elsewhere

While there are many companies offering alerts for the negative reviews, almost none of them are actually offering a solution for the problemâ€

I can assist you in managing the negative reviews (unethical competition slander or hateful etc) maintain a positive feedback creating an active defense against any misleading reviews that will eventually come and make sure that people will notice your practice and not your competitionâ€

Reviews are simply too important to ignore especially when bad reviews(unethical competition slander or hateful inaccurate or misleading) cost you real money

Even if you are not really interested or you donâ€™t care about the online image feel free to ask for a free online presence report or more information

Kind regards

AARP Driver Safety Program | 8-Hour

Improve your skills and knowledge and learn about the effects of aging and medication on driving, along with suggestions for overcoming limitations. Course completion may qualify you for insurance discounts; check with your insurance company. Bring your driver's license and AARP Member number (if member) to class. No driving or tests. This class is only to be taken one time. Refresher classes are 4 hours.

Tue/Wed Jun 24 & 25 | 5:00-9:00pm | 2 sessions
$18 AARP Members/$18 Non-Members

NEW! Start Your Engines

You rely on your vehicles to get to work, go on trips, and take kids to school, playdates and practice. Learn how to take care of your car so it will take care of you. Discover what maintenance you can do yourself and learn how to ask the right questions when bringing your car in for service.

Mon/Wed Jun 23 & 25 | 6:00-8:00pm | 2 sessions | $25
VandenBerge MS Rm 307 Door N | Meyer | #4140-1S

Why take a driver safety course? Because driving has changed since you first got your license, and completing the class could save you money on insurance.

NEW! Where the Rubber Meets the Road | age 15+

Let's be honest: driving a car is expensive. Did you know there are ways that you can save money just by doing some of the maintenance yourself or by knowing the right questions to ask when you bring your car in for repair? Don't miss out on this interactive class that will put some cash back in your wallet.

Mon/Wed Jul 28 & 30 | 6:00-8:00pm | 2 sessions

NEW! Credits Before College Workshop

College is expensive! Most of us have to scramble to find scholarships and financial aid to offset the costs, yet face the possibility of huge student loans. There is another way. This workshop presents ideas and options that may help you receive a lot of credits. Don't let high school be the time you realize a lot of friends are going to the same place for the same reasons, a Regionally Accredited College Degree at an affordable price. You'll be glad you attended. Each registered family will receive a Comprehensive Resource Packet. Class is designed for students in grades 8-12 and their parents.

Thursday Aug 7 | 5:00-8:00pm | 1 session
$40 family/household

BOMB THREAT PROCEDURES

This quick reference checklist is designed to help employees and decision makers of commercial facilities, schools, etc. respond to a bomb threat in an orderly and controlled manner with the first responders and other stakeholders.

Most bomb threats are received by phone. Bomb threats are serious until proven otherwise. Act quickly, but remain calm and obtain information with the checklist on the reverse of this card.

If a telephone threat is received by phone:

1. Remain calm. Keep the caller on the line for as long as possible. DO NOT HANG UP, even if the caller does.
2. Listen carefully. Be polite and show interest.
3. Try to keep the caller talking to learn more information.
4. If possible, write a note to a colleague to call the authorities or ask a colleague to do so as the caller hangs up immediately notify them yourself.
5. If your phone has a display, copy the window and/or letters on the window display.
6. Complete the Bomb Threat Checklist immediately. Write down as much detail as you can remember. Try to get exact words.
7. Immediately upon termination of call, DO NOT HANG UP, but from a different phone, contact authorities immediately with information and await instructions.

If a bomb threat is received by handwritten note:

- Call _____
- Handle note as minimally as possible.

If a bomb threat is received by e-mail:

- Call _____
- Do not delete the message.

Signs of a suspicious package:

- No return address
- Poorly handwritten
- Excessive postage
- Misspelled words
- Stains
- Incorrect titles
- Strange odor
- Foreign postage
- Strange sounds
- Restrictive notes
- Unexpected delivery

 *Refer to your local bomb threat emergency response plan for evacuation criteria

DO NOT:

- Use two-way radios or cellular phone. Radio signals have the potential to detonate a bomb.
- Touch or move a suspicious package.

WHO TO CONTACT (Select One)

- 911
- Follow your local guidelines

For more information about this form contact the DHS Office for Bombing Prevention at OBP@dhs.gov

Professor Fry

History 1302

Step-One

The problem is that Plessy vs. Ferguson had put into law acceptance of "separate but equal" and it dealt with separate facilities for whites and Negroes on railway coaches but was soon applied to public education. People did not like this and therefore, there was a lot of discussion about this new supreme court.

Step-two

The cases presented was that by world war 2, 18 states had statues which called for mandatory segregation of white and black children and six other states allowed segregated schools if local schools do not have them. Another case presented is that Brown v Board of education ruled that school segregation violated the constitution. Chief Justice said segregation formed "feeling of inferiority." Also the state education commission said that race relations were the best of all the south and that Arkansas would successfully addresses the problems associated with integration.

Step-three

One option was that the president Eisenhower said he could give orders to charge the National Guard with maintaining peace and order while admitting the blacks students. Another option was that the president Eisenhower could have unblocked any attempt integrated to schools made in 1954 and 1957 by white citizens connc is in Little Rock.

Step-Four

The first option's positive side is that black students were going to be able to attend school by maintaining peace and order by charging the National Guard. The negative side is that it would bring a lot of controversies from the opposing side of the view for the fact that people would not like the idea. The second option is that the president Eisenhower would stop the blocking attempts from schools to integrate. The positive side is that schools would be put together to work and to not be integrated. The negative side is that the white citizens would have kept trying to block any attempt to integrate schools.

Step-Five

I would have choose the second option where the president Eisenhower would stop white citizens to stop the blocking attempts from schools to integrate. This is a good option because all the schools would have been put together for everyone to attend without any racial exceptions. It would have been the best way to have solve the problem because president Eisenhower would have

October 23 2009

"Annie" takes the stage at Memorial Park

On October 22, 23 and 24 the MPMS music department presented the musical "Annie, Jr." The leads were:

Caleb Newell—Daddy Warbucks
Alli Mortensen—Annie
Maddie Bouwers—Miss Hannigan
Duncan Justice—Roostar
Rachel Reed—Lily
Eva Lewellen—Grace
Aaliyah Hale- Pepper
Kane Justice—Tessie
Sammy Justice- July
Savannah Barron—Duffy
Jackie Walburn—Molly
Madisen Kaylor—Kate
Keagan Bouwers- President Roosevelt

Other students were grouped as the orphan chorus, the NYC chorus, and the servant chorus. The show was a great success and performed very well by all of the cast members. The crew did a marvelous job working backstage.

Troubleshooting Print Quality

Your WorkCentre 7800 Series Multifunction Printers designed to produce consistently high-quality color prints. If you observe print-quality problems, use the information on these pages to help identify the problems. For detailed online support information, go to www.xerox.com/office/WC7830support.

CAUTION The Xerox® warranty, Service Agreement, or Total Satisfaction Guarantee does not cover damage caused by using unsupported paper, transparencies, or other specialty media. The Total Satisfaction Guarantee is available in the United States and Canada. Coverage can vary outside these areas. Please contact your local representative for details.

Paper Type

CAUTION If you change the type of paper in the tray, change the paper type at the control panel to match the paper that you loaded. If you fail to change the paper type, it can cause print quality problems and can damage the fuser.

For best results, use only recommended Xerox® media. They are guaranteed to produce excellent results on your WorkCentre 7800 Series Multifunction Printer. For information on supported paper types and weights, at the control panel, press Machine Status, touch Information Pages > Paper Tips Page > Print. To order Xerox® paper and media, go to www.xerox.com/office/WC7830supplies.

For a complete list of recommended media for your printer, go to:

- North America: www.xerox.com/paper
- Europe: www.xerox.com/europaper

Solving Print Quality Problems

Use the following tables to find specific solutions to print-quality problems.

Note: The images displayed represent long-edge feed prints. If you print short-edge feed, the print quality defects are rotated 90 degrees. The images displayed are for reference only. Not all pages are printed on a printer.

DVD+R 4x

4.7GB | 120min | Recordable

The recording surface coated by a proprietary mixture of pigments provides a reliable 4X writing speed and a wide range of compatibility, while minimizing recording errors.

- This media is a DVD+R compatible, non-rewritable DVD+R disc with 4.7GB capacity on which data can be written only once.
- Compatible with a 4X write speed drive
- The proprietary overcoating technology used to protect the recording surface prevents stored data from scratches, stains and dust particles.
- This product can only be used with DVD+R compatible recorders and drives.

Warranty

- The manufacturer warrants this product against defects in materials or workmanship. In the event of a claim against this warranty, the manufacturer's obligation, and the claimant's sole remedy, shall be replacement of the product.
- This warranty specifically excludes responsibility for recorded data and any other direct and indirect damages caused by such defect.

RE: Felix Ristuccia
DOB: 6/15/1960

Dear Dr. Katof

Thank you for the referral of Felix Ristuccia. Your referral of Felix shows us that you are pleased with the services we provide. We're confident Felix will receive the best possible treatment in our professional and caring environment. I look forward to co-treating this patient with you.

Our practice continues to thrive with your referrals. Again, we greatly appreciate your interest in our practice and look forward to providing you and your patients with outstanding clinical nutrition programs to support sleep, digestion, weight loss, diabetes, pain, and thyroid health.

Sincerely,

Matt Lewis

Retro games and a retro joystick

Posted on August 13, 2012 by liz

A lot of people of a certain age (cough – that'll be me) have been using their Raspberry Pis to play the games that we wasted spent endless 10p coins on down at the arcade when we were kids. MAME (the Multiple Arcade Machine Emulator) is a really popular download for the Raspberry Pi, and you can run an increasing number of games on your Pi as developers in the community work on recompiling for Raspbian. Below, for example, is the most excellent Metal Slug 3. (If you want a MAME download for your own Raspberry Pi, Shea Silverman has a handy little tutorial on his site along with the relevant binaries.)

I don't know about you, but I find that what controller you use has a massive impact on the satisfaction you get from a game. Sure, you can use keyboard commands, but a joystick built for the game is a tremendously cheering thing. And sure, you can use a modern USB joystick – but where's the fun in that?

Chris Swan thinks so too, and has hacked a lovely 1980s Competition Pro 5000 (hurrah for eBay) to

Virtual fax

Sending and receiving faxes is a necessity for most businesses. Comm offers an alternative to a physical fax machine with virtual faxing. Since users can send and receive faxes right from the End User Portal, virtual faxing can give a small business the flexibility to allow its users to work from anywhere.

1. What is virtual faxing?
2. What do I get with virtual fax?
3. How many client virtual fax lines?
4. How do I sign up for virtual fax?
5. How do I send a virtual fax?
6. How do I receive a virtual fax?

What is virtual faxing?

Virtual faxing is a process through which users can send and receive faxes through the Internet. Users can upload a PDF file and send it through the End User Portal. Incoming faxes are received as PDF sent to a direct phone number received as PDF files, and sent to the user's email address.

What do I get with virtual fax?

Ruby's Mother Comes to Visit

Ruby was cooking one morning in his kitchen when he heard the doorbell ring. He went to open it. To his surprise he saw his mother! He was so happy to see her, he invited her in. Ruby told her where her room would be. He asked her how long she could stay. She said four days.

At night, Ruby asked where she wanted to go tomorrow She said she wanted to go to the zoo. Ruby agreed

That morning, they got ready and went They saw all kinds of animals. For instance, bears, giraffes, monkeys, zebras, and a million more!

Ruby's mother then saw a kangaroo She went to pet it, but it hopped and jumped and suddenly it chased her! She was so scared, she ran all the way home! Ruby laughed so hard! Ruby's mother never went to the zoo again!

Since London dispersion forces depend on the random motions of electrons, molecules with more electrons will experience greater London dispersion forces. So among substances that experience only London dispersion forces, the one with more electrons will generally have higher melting and boiling points. London dispersion forces are even weaker than dipole–dipole forces, so substances that experience only London dispersion forces melt and boil at extremely low temperatures and tend to be gases at room temperature.

Hydrogen Bonds

Hydrogen bonds are similar to dipole–dipole attractions. In a hydrogen bond, the positively charged hydrogen end of a molecule is attracted to the negatively charged end of another molecule containing an extremely electronegative element (fluorine, oxygen, or nitrogen—F, O, N).

Hydrogen bonds are much stronger than dipole–dipole forces because when a hydrogen atom loses its one electron to a bond, its positively charged nucleus is left virtually unshielded. Substances that have hydrogen bonds, like water and ammonia, have higher melting and boiling points than substances that are held together by dipole–dipole forces.

Water is less dense as a solid than as a liquid because its hydrogen bonds force the molecules in ice to form a crystal structure which keeps them further apart than they are in the liquid form.

Naming and Constructing Geometric Figures

During the next few weeks, the class will study the geometry of 2-dimensional shapes. Students will examine definitions and properties of shapes and the relationships among them. Students will use compass and straightedge tools to construct shapes and to create their own geometric designs.

Please keep this Family Letter for reference as your child works through Unit 1.

Vocabulary

Important terms in Unit 1

concave (nonconvex) polygon A polygon in which at least one vertex is "pushed in."

concave polygon

convex polygon A polygon in which all vertices are "pushed outward."

convex polygon

endpoint A point at the end of a line segment or a ray.

line Informally, a straight path that extends infinitely in opposite directions.

line segment A straight path joining two points. The two points are called the endpoints of the segment.

parallelogram A quadrilateral that has two pairs of parallel sides. Opposite sides of a parallelogram have equal lengths. Opposite angles of a parallelogram have the same measure.

polygon A 2-dimensional figure that is made up of three or more line segments joined end to end to make one closed path. The line segments of a polygon may not cross.

quadrangle (quadrilateral) A polygon that has four sides and four angles.

ray A straight path that extends infinitely from a point called its endpoint.

rhombus A quadrilateral whose sides are all the same length. All rhombuses are parallelograms. Every square is a rhombus, but not all rhombuses are squares.

trapezoid In Everyday Mathematics, a quadrilateral that has exactly one pair of parallel sides.

vertex The point where the rays of an angle, the sides of a polygon, or the edges of a polyhedron meet.

A MEMORIAL SLOAN KETTERING 2014-2015 CALENDAR

Using your favorite web browser from a computer on the same network, point the address to the IP address of your adapter (example http://192.168.1.2) Replace 192.168.1.2 by the IP Address your device is currently using.

Step 3

You should now see the web interface of your Linksys/Sipura.

click on the link "Admin", and once the page has reloaded, click again on the link "Advanced View"

Step 4

Under the LINE 1 Tab, Find the following fields and fill them with the following information

Proxy: atlanta.voip.ms (You can choose any of our multiple VoIP ms servers)
Display Name: John Smith (Replace with your name or company name)
User ID: 100000 (Replace with your VoIP.ms username)
Password:  (Type in the account password)
Register Expires: 180
Proxy Fallback Intvl: 180
Nat Keep Alive: Yes
Nat Mapping/Traversal: Yes

Step 5 (Optional)

Optionally you can configure your adapter with a faster dial plan, allowing faster dialing of 10 digits number (Local US/Canada) and also enable 7 digits dialing in one area code of your choice.

At the bottom of Line 1 TAB, you will find a field called Dial Plan

Replace the 555 digits in the following line by the area code of your choice and copy the line, including parentheses, in the Dialplan field in Line 1 Tab at the bottom of the page

(911S0|<:1555>[2-9]xxxxxx|1[2-9]xx[2-9]xxxxxx|555[2-9]xx[2-9]xxxxx|*xx|[3468]11|822|0|000[2-9]xxxxxx|4xxx|275x.|xxxxxxxxxx.)

Click on the "Save Settings " button at the bottom of the form.

12 JOURNEY INTO MYSTERY

NICK FURY SHIELD

STAN LEE
Comics Hall Of Fame Member

In our teen years whose were told to stop reading fairy tales, that we're too old for all of that magical wonder? I don't agree with that. So the comics I started writing were, heroically, comic books for older people. Fairy tales for adults—or smart people, anyway. I also really liked to write three-dimensional characters, people with whom we're actually alive and doing those things and maybe somehow sharing the world with you and me.

QC: Has your writing process changed much through the years?

SL: Well, I don't mind as much now as I used to. [Laughs] See, I have the sun. I also really didn't want to become one of those writers who got a big paycheck because I was sitting in a desk all the time. So when I was writing a lot of those stories, back in the '60s and '70s, I put this bridge table out on the terrace—this was at our house in Long Island, a long time ago—and then I put a book and on top of that so it was tall enough and then I'd put my typewriter on top of that. That way, I could stand and walk in the sun and type all day long. And my wife would have these little parties at the house and everyone would be talking and drinking and laughing all around me, and I'd look up mumbling, hmm, typing away. She really is the perfect wife for me.

QC: There are infinite theories about where creative ideas come from. Where do you think Ant-Man, Scarlet Witch or even the Destroyer, your very first comic book hero, come from?

SL: Well, you just think about it! You just sit down or walk around and probably have a big, dumb look on your face and you wonder "What would I like to read? What kind of character would interest me?" I'm asked a lot what tips I would give to other writers. The truth is I don't know any tips. I can't think of a single tip. Now I've been writing long enough to have met an awful lot of writers who sit down at their computer or whatever and say "OK now I'm going to write the story for young ladies, aged 17 to 28." I don't have a clue how to do that. I don't know what other people want. I know what I want. So the only thing I can say when someone asks me for pointers is

Please write stories that you think are great. Write to please yourself. That's how I've always done it—not because I'm so desperate to please other people, but because I feel very genuinely that if I really love a story, then there must be a few other people out there who would love it too. I'm not that special.

QC: Writing an autobiography is, necessarily, a process of reflection. Looking back at your life on the verge of 93, does it really feel like an arresting, fantastic, incredible life?

SL: If I said anything but "yes, absolutely," I'm sure I would've ended like a terrible human being. But it's funny, when I look back at those days in Long Island, I remember the feelings I had then of being just a little unhappy because, maybe, there aren't there kinds of comic book people in the world because. There were the people who thought comic books were stupid and unimportant and there were people who just didn't care about comic books at all. And then there were the people who actually read them. We were living in Long Island, surrounded by psychiatrists and doctors and lawyers and businessmen, and there I was, writing these little stories with drawings in them, and I couldn't let go of the idea that most people didn't give a damn about the work I was doing. I wasn't winning important court cases. I wasn't healing people's bodies. I wasn't changing anyone's world. It was a lousy feeling in those days.

QC: The evidence by now has surely changed your mind about that, yes?

SL: Well, as the years went by, I realized that entertainment is one of the most important things in the world. People need it. They really need it. That's why they go to concerts, or anyone at all reads books and watch television. Life is tough for a lot of people. If you can do something that brings someone else just a little bit of relief or pleasure—like telling them a really great story, maybe—that's not a cool thing to do, right? So, over the years, I've learned to be happy with the work I do, rather than apologetic for it.

QC: Good! One more question. Who do you think is better looking: Stan Lee in real life or the illustrated Stan Lee in Amazing Fantastic Incredible*?*

SL: Oh, that's easy. Me! I'm much better-looking. The hair is so much thicker. Look at me! ■

Make yourself a panel saw

Those rigs used in lumberyards to cut big pieces of plywood into easy-to-handle sizes are handy—and expensive: over $1 000. You can build one that does the same jobs for $60—not counting the saw, which you probably already own and can detach for use as a portable

By H. J. De CRISTOFORO

I recently had to do a roof-repair job that required cutting four-by-eight-foot sheets of plywood in half across the short dimension. I dreaded wrestling with the panels while trying to cut it to size with my table or radial arm saw so I headed to the lumberyard to have it cut with a commercial panel saw. But once there I realized that my money would be better spent buying materials to make a panel saw for my own workshop. I gathered my wood scrap home, and started designing. The result: a convenient, portable panel saw that has since made jobs like cutting plates for bookcases, table, wall paneling—or roof decking—a breeze.

Building a panel saw that allows both crosscutting and ripping is simple. A portable circular saw secured to a carriage that slides on stiff twin tubes travels vertically for cross-cutting panels that set securely in a sturdy frame. A pair of sliding-door closers act to counterbalance the weight of carriage and saw, so little effort is required to move the tool through cuts.

Rotate the saw 90 degrees and lock the carriage at any point on the tubes; ripping is a matter of moving the panel against the blade. You can also add a removable ledge to support long boards at a comfortable height for ripping cuts.

The saw frame can be permanently attached to a long, bare wall—allowing for the frame width plus eight feet of panel—but I prefer to add the hinged back braces so the unit can be used in either the shop or outside on location.

The material you use doesn't have to be fancy, but it's essential that it be knot dread. If you can select the boards at your yard construction-grade lumber will do. Just be sure that it's free of any kind of distortion.

Nail the top beam to the two outside verticals, using a carpenter's

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine, and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully...it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Week of September 12-16, 2016

Reading

This week we will begin Literacy Centers! Students will begin turning in their Response Journals and reading independently. I will be pulling small groups to focus on comparing and contrasting 2 texts from the same genre. I will also be pulling small groups to work on reading more fluently.

We worked a little on putting commas correctly in a list last week. This week, we will learn how to write dialogue correctly. It will be something we revisit frequently throughout the year.

We will finish up our work with the Greek and Latin roots of eque (water), bio (life), gen (birth or race), mater (mother), and spec (see or look). Students will use the iPads to find other words that have those roots in them. We also started something called 5 Word Fridays, where we learn 5 new words and talk about how we've experienced them in our lives.

Don't forget – If you would like to order books from Scholastic, they are due this Friday!

Social Studies

In Social Studies we began learning about American Indians. We'll start the week with an activity where we "move" to a new place in the classroom to facilitate a discussion about why American Indians moved, what it must have been like, and how they adapted to their new environments.

Math

Last week we were really moving in math! We covered 2 and 3 digit multiplication and worked with some short/long division. Students are working hard learning in class and being responsible for turning in their homework.

If you have any unmatched socks at home, could you send one or two into school? We have been using the dry erase boards a lot during math! Also, if you want to donate any dry erase markers, we would love to put them to use! Thank you so much!

The Big Picture

A DVD recorder is like a VCR, except that it uses discs instead of tapes to record TV programs and play prerecorded videos. Generally speaking, the quality of a DVD recorder is superior to what you'd get with a VCR. Plus, as with prerecorded DVDs, you can skip around a disc easily through disc menus and chapter marks.

The main drawback to buying a DVD recorder is that not all recorders support all disc formats. PC DVD burners have mostly eliminated format wars with cross-format support; however, DVD recorders continue to be stratified along format lines. Some recorders can handle all five of the single-layer recordable DVD formats (DVD-R/RW, DVD+R/RW, and DVD-RAM), but most do not. Common combinations, especially on budget recorders, are to support just DVD-R/RW or DVD+R/RW. Other models support both of these formats but not DVD-RAM. Some recorders handle DVD-R/RW and DVD-RAM, and still more support DVD-R/RW, DVD+R, and DVD-RAM. The good news is that this year we'll see at least one manufacturer offer recorders that support all five formats.

Formats

If you intend to play your home-grown DVDs only on the recorder used to create them, this multiplicity of formats is not an issue. You can focus your buying decision on other features instead. But chances are that you will at least occasionally want to share your discs with family or friends. In this case, you'll want to make a disc that plays in other DVD players or laptops.

The recordable DVDs that are most broadly compatible with standard players are DVD-R and DVD+R. These are write-once, nonerasable formats. DVD-R is traditionally considered as having a slight edge in cross-compatibility, however, most current-model DVD players and DVD-ROM drives (or DVD burners) will read at least one of these formats. A substantial majority will read both formats.

Some DVD recorders also support write-once 8.5GB DVD-R DL (called "dual layer" in this format) or DVD+R DL (called "double layer" in this format) media. These discs have twice the capacity of standard single-layer DVDs, and are a boon to anyone who needs to record video at the highest possible bit rate for maximum image quality. Typically, DVD recorder manufacturers call this high-quality recording mode "XP" or "1 hour mode," because you can record 1 hour of material onto a write-once disc. If your DVD recorder supports dual-layer or double layer media, then XP mode can pack up to 2 hours of high-quality video onto a single disc.

Each of the write-once formats has a rewritable sibling—DVD-RW for DVD-R and DVD+RW for DVD+R. Most DVD players can play back rewritable disc formats, but the degree of compatibility of rewritable media isn't as high as with write-once media. If you plan to use your recorded discs on other DVD players you already own, check your machine's specs to see which formats it should be able to handle.

Finally, there's DVD-RAM, a slick rewritable format with more sophisticated random-access capability than the others. This is the best format choice for an disc editing and allows simultaneous on-disc recording and playback. However, not all players can play back DVD-RAM discs, so it's not the best choice for recording content you plan to share with friends.

Main Course or Side Dish?

DVD recorders can be divided into four, more interesting subsets as well: straight DVD recorders, DVD recorders with built-in hard drives, DVD recorders built into hard-disk digital video recorders, and combination DVD/VHS recorders.

Straight DVD recorders are functionally very similar to VCRs, substituting discs for tapes. Adding a hard

Mathematics (from Greek μάθημα máthēma: "knowledge, study, learning") is the abstract study of topics encompassing quantity,[2] structure,[3] space,[2] change,[4][5] and others.[6] It has no generally accepted definition.[7][8]

Mathematicians seek out patterns[9][10] and formulate new conjectures. Mathematicians resolve the truth or falsity of conjectures by mathematical proof. The research required to solve mathematical problems can take years or even centuries of sustained inquiry. Since the pioneering work of Giuseppa Peano (1858–1932), David Hilbert (1862–1943), and others on axiomatic systems in the late 19th century, it has become customary to view mathematical research as establishing truth by rigorous deduction from appropriately chosen axioms and definitions. When those mathematical structures are good models of real phenomena, then mathematical reasoning can provide insight or predictions about nature.

Through the use of abstraction and logical reasoning, mathematics developed from counting, calculation, measurement, and the systematic study of the shapes and motions of physical objects. Practical mathematics has been a

Simple Recipes Tested Well

Savory Corn Pudding

1 hour to prepare serves 4–6

- 2 cups fresh, frozen, or canned corn kernels (from about 3 ears corn if fresh)
- 1 box (8.5 oz) cornbread mix
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 cup (about 4 oz) thinly sliced ham, chopped
- 1 bell pepper seeded and chopped
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter melted
- 1/2 cup cheddar cheese, grated
- 1/2 cup Colby Jack cheese, grated
- 2 eggs
- Kosher salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste
- Fresh parsley for garnish (optional)

PREPARATION

1. Preheat oven to 350°F and generously butter a 9x13-inch baking dish. Set aside.
2. In a large bowl, mix together the cornbread mix, sour cream, melted butter, eggs, and salt and pepper. Fold in the corn kernels, ham, cheese, and bell pepper.
3. Pour mixture into prepared baking dish and smooth top with a rubber spatula. Bake until pudding is set, about 40-45 minutes.
4. Enjoy!

...ew economic vitality and ...ople from ...to get this going ex...ckly. So that Tulsans can enjoy the economic development efforts as soon as possible, said Bynum.

He later pointed to the BOK Center as an example of how a project can create a positive ripple effect in its area.

"The years following the completion of the BOK Center Tulsa experienced $500 million in private investment in downtown. I believe there are projects in this package that could offer similar returns for the Tulsa area."

City councilors played a role in building the timeline in addition to a diverse, citizen-based advisory group that was appointed from Tulsa's public and private sectors, including representatives from businesses and community groups and young professionals, to provide a final review of the plan.

"I think five years in the future, or 10 years in the future, Tulsa will look like," Bynum said. "It will be home to an Olympic sport (BMX racing), home to a museum that is worthy of its world-class inventory and collection (Gilcrease Museum), and will have a lake in its downtown (A Gathering Place for Tulsa), and there will again be reconnection actively on the Arkansas River.

KUDOS OF THE MONTH: Muscogee (Creek) Nation

Gaston Tulsa Reporter's February Kudos of the Month goes to the Muscogee (Creek) Nation for its development of River Spirit Casino Resort and Margaritaville Casino and Restaurant, helping to grow Tulsa into a go-to tourist destination.

The $365 million expansion project broke ground in 2013.

The first milestone that the Margaritaville project met was the opening of the 3 O'Clock Somewhere Bar in July 2015.

Next came the opening of the Margaritaville Casino and Restaurant in August 2016, with a resort pool, luxury, parking structure and expanded 3,600-space parking facility with all entire-controlled walkway.

In September the 36,000-square-foot convention center opened; the adjoining 27-story hotel tower with full-service spa opened in December.

In January, River Spirit opened Margaritaville's Paradise Cove theater and Ruth's Chris Steak House.

The final phase of the expansion, the Landshark Bar resort pool deck, outdoor event space, and River Parks Trail will open in the spring.

Kudos to Principal Chief Jeaon R. Floyd, who addressed his people in the State of the Nation about the Muscogee (Creek) Nation's blueprint for progress and success accomplished over the past 5 fiscal years. His address was held at the Muscogee (Creek) Nation Mound Building on Jan. 28.

The address reviewed the Muscogee (Creek) Nation's economic development plans and action on how they will be improving services and programs for the Indian nation.

A Bayesian Routing Framework for Delay Tolerant Networks

Shahbaz Ahmed and Sahl S Kanhere

Email {shahbaz, ss401}@cse.unsw.edu.au

Abstract—Routing in delay tolerant networks (DTN) can benefit from the fact that most real life DTNs especially in the context of people-centric networks (e.g. Pocket Switched Networks (PSN)) exhibit some sort of periodicity in their mobility patterns. For example public transportation networks follow periodic schedules. Even most individuals have fairly regularity in movement patterns, for example driving to and from work at approximately the same time everyday. This paper proposes a Bayesian classifier based DTN routing framework that adopts a methodical approach for computing the routing metrics by utilizing the network parameters (e.g. spatial and temporal information at the time of packet forwarding) that capture the per node behavior of DTN nodes. After the calculation of routing metrics, different routing instantiations are possible based on this framework. We simulate a real-world vehicular DTN network using mobility traces from a metropolitan public transportation bus network and demonstrate that even a simplistic single-copy forwarding scheme based on our framework outperforms existing geodirected single copy schemes by 25% in terms of delivery ratio. To the best of our knowledge this work is one of the first studies that adopts Bayesian inference in the context of DTN routing.

I Introduction

Delay Tolerant Networks (DTN) [3] are a class of challenged networks wherein the node contacts are intermittent and disconnected and contexts glean. To deal with this opposite connectivity a DTN the proposed routing strategies rely on the inherent mobility of the participating nodes to store-carry-and-forward [1] the messages for delivery to the destinations. Such networks are well suited in areas where there is no communication infrastructure due to harsh environments (battlefields), remote, sparsely or economic conditions (rural and remote areas developing countries). Two particularly attractive instances of people centric DTN include (i) Pocket Switched Networks (PSNs) [7] wherein personal communication devices carried by humans self-organize to form an ostensibly mostly connected network; thus enabling a new class of social networking applications (e.g. People Nets [15]) and (ii) Vehicular DTN which can leverage the large data storage and energy capabilities offered by vehicles to create a large-scale powerful DTN. Examples include the use of mules based DTNs to provide low cost digital connectivity to remote villages [16] and vehicular sensing platforms such as CarTel [9] for urban monitoring.

Over the past years, several routing schemes have been proposed for DTN (an overview of these can be found in [11]). A particularly effective forwarding principle that is often employed is gradient routing [11] wherein the message tends to follow a gradient of metric (or utility function) values towards the destination. The utility function serves to the routing metric and is based on a variety of parameters which depend on the a priori information about the network characteristics, such as, last encounter [7] with the destination, encounter frequencies of nodes [1] etc.

However most of the schemes (e.g. [14] [1]) used in maintain routing metrics for all potential destinations which is clearly not scalable particularly for large-scale DTN (e.g. PSN or vehicle-based DTN). A more scalable approach, presented in [5] involves grouping of the nodes into a finite set of classes based on certain common affiliations (i.e. institutional affiliation) that exist amongst the nodes. Consequently nodes only need to maintain routing metrics on a per class basis. The goal is to transfer the message to any node that belongs to the same class as the destination node as members of the same class have a high likelihood of encountering each other. However this type of simple classification may be harder to achieve in larger and complex networks such as people-centric DTN because it is not clear how and which properties should be utilized for the classification purpose.

In most people-centric DTN the mobility patterns of the nodes generally exhibit some level of inter periodicity. For example public transport buses follow fixed schedules and routes, also individuals often follow repetitive patterns, for example driving to and from work at the same time every weekday (given the) the mobility of most real-world DTN follow repetitive patterns to some extent intuitively approaches are particularly suitable for the above mentioned classification of nodes. In this paper we present a novel routing framework, which utilizes the concept of Bayesian classification [6] for determining the class membership probabilities. The simplicity and accuracy of Bayesian classifier [6] makes it an attractive candidate for this classification problem. In our approach the computation of these class membership probabilities relies on the well-known set of historical statistics about relevant network parameters (e.g. node mobility traces, node encounter statistics etc.) After computing class membership probabilities our routing framework employs class-based gradient routing similar to the ideas presented in [3]. The use of posterior probabilities in computing class membership enables us to accumulate more information as compared to prior probabilities.

The Two Frogs

a Japanese fable

1 Once upon a time in the country of Japan there lived two frogs. One made his home in a ditch near the town of Osaka, on the sea coast while the other dwelt in a clear little stream that ran through the city of Kioto. At such a great distance apart, they had never even heard of each other. But funnily enough, the idea came into both their heads at once that they should like to see a little more of the world. After much thought, the frog who lived at Kioto decided he wanted to see Osaka and the sea, and the frog who lived at Osaka decided he wanted to go to Kioto, where the great Mikado had his palace.

2 So one fine morning in the spring, they both set out along the road that led from Kioto to Osaka, one from one end and the other from the other. The journey was more tiring than they expected, for they did not know much about traveling, and half way between the two towns, there arose a mountain that had to be climbed. It took them a long time and a great many hops to reach the top, but there they were at last, and what was the surprise of each to see another frog before him!

3 They looked at each other for a moment without speaking and then fell into conversation, explaining the cause of their meeting so far from their homes. It was delightful to find that they both felt the same wish—to learn a little more of their native country—and as there was no sort of hurry, they stretched themselves out in a cool, damp place and agreed that they would have a good rest before they parted to go their ways.

3. By pressing m, followed by any letter, you can save (\"mark\") a location in your document and jump to it using the apostrophe key followed by the same letter. This lets you jump to important points of a file quickly.
4. Syntax highlighting can be turned on using the :syntax on command. It can be turned off with :syntax off.
5. Vim allows you to run terminal commands without leaving (quitting) vim. Pressing : followed by ! and a command, vim will run the command then return you to the vim window. For example [illegible] will print out the contents of the current directory, prompt you to hit Enter, then return to vim.
6. The .vimrc file resides in your home directory, and contains a list of preferences. In this file you can set your [illegible] syntax highlighting, [illegible]
7. u undoes the last action, ctrl-r redoes it.
8. The / command allows you to search a file for a string. /foo will search the document for the string \"foo\". Pressing n jumps to the next occurrence of the string, and N moves backwards.
9. Folding

   b) Folding [illegible] There are three primary methods of doing this: syntax, indent, manual. Toggle between them with :set foldmethod=[illegible]
   c) Folding Commands: There are several ways to expand and collapse folds.
      za toggles a fold
      zc and zC close a fold, and recursively close all folds that [illegible] under the cursor zo and zO opens a fold, and [illegible] opens all folds under the cursor zR and zM open all folds in a document and close all folds in a document
      In manual folding mode, zfN creates a fold from the cursor down N lines, zd deletes the fold at the cursor, and zE deletes all folds.
10. Tabs

    New versions of Vim allow you to open up separate tabs with different documents in each. To create a tab, use the :tabnew command. The commands :tabnext and :tabprev move to the next and previous open tabs.
11. Split Windows

    Vim lets you divide your window into multiple areas to edit different parts of the same file or different files concurrently.

    :split divides the window in half horizontally. Prefixing it with a number, such as :20split, creates a split of 20 characters.

    :vsplit divides the window vertically.

    Pressing ctrl-w, followed by one of the direction (h, j, k, l) keys, will move focus from one split to another.

    The :quit command will close a split area.

This Target Selector™ assay analyzes for the presence of Del19 and L858R activating mutations associated with predictive to targeted EGFR tyrosine kinase inhibitors as well as the T790M point Assay associated with resistance to these therapies

Method Target Selector™ by Biocept

Plasma and negative controls were run and reacted in an appropriate manner The EGFR Mutations assay is a quantitative Real-Time PCR based mutant enrichment assay with Assured blocking of EGFR wild-type amplification. The amplification products are purified and subject to sequencing to confirm the presence of the EGFR mutation This assay analyzes for the following EGFR mutations: del 19, L858R, and T790M. The assay has a specificity >98% and sensitivity >98% at 0.05% mutant allele frequency

General Instructions

Purpose of Form

Form 8655 is used to designate a reporting agent to:

- Sign and file certain returns;
- Make deposits and payments for certain returns;
- Receive duplicate copies of tax information, request and other written and/or electronic communication regarding any authority provided; and
- Provide IRS with information to aid in penalty relief determinations related to the authority granted on Form 8655.

Authority Granted

Once Form 8655 is signed, any authority granted is effective beginning with the period designated on lines 15 or 16 and continues indefinitely unless revoked by the taxpayer or designee, agent, no authorization or authority is granted for periods prior to the period(s) designated on Form 8655.

Where authority is granted for any form, it is also effective for related forms such as the (homestanding) non-English language form, amended return (Form 94 X, 94 XPR, 940-X, 944 X/PR, 945-X, or CT 6) payment number or request correction. In addition to the returns shown on lines 15 and 16, Form 8655 can be used to revoke authorization for Form 944-SP using the entry spaces for Form 944. The form also can be used to authorize a designee, agent to make deposits and payments for other months in the Form 1120 series, such as Form 1120-C using the entry space for Form 1120 on line 15.

Disclosure authority granted on and 17a is effective on the date Form 8655 is signed by the taxpayer. Any authority granted on Form 8655 does not revoke and has no effect on any authority granted on Forms 2848 or 8821 or any third-party designee checkbox authority.

Where To File

Send Form 8655 to:

Internal Revenue Service
Accounts Management Service Hosted
MS 6744 RAP Team
1973 North Rulon White Blvd
Ogden, UT 84404

You can fax Form 8655 to the IRS. The number is 801-620-6161.

Additional Information

Additional information concerning reporting agent authorizations may be found in:

- Pub. 1474, Technical authorizations officer for beginning agent Authorizations and receive Tax Information.
- Rev. Proc. 2007-35. You can find also Proc. 2007-35 on 8655 1440 of Internal Revenue Bulletin 2007-20 at www.irs.gov/pub/irs-irbs/irb07-20.pdf.

Substitute Form 8655

If you want to register and use a substitute Form 8655, see Pub. 1474, General Rules and Specifications for Substitute Forms and Paperwork. If your substitute Form 8655 is judgments the form approval number must be printed in the lower left corner of each substitute Form 8655 you file with the IRS.

Revoking an Authorization

If you have a valid Form 8655 on file with the IRS, the filing of a new Form 8655 revokes the authority of the prior reporting agent to make payments with the period indicated on the new Form 8655, because the prior designee agent is still an authorized reporting agent and federal any payments received substitute authority for the request prior to the beginning period of the new reporting agent's authorization officer specifically revoked.

If the taxpayer wants to cancel an existing authorization, send a copy of the previously designate Form 8655 to the IRS at the address under Where To File, above. Register the copy of the Form 8655 under the original signature. Write "REVOKE" across the top of the form. If you do not have a copy of the authorization you prior to received send a statement to the IRS. The statement of revocation must register that the authority of the reporting agent is revoked and must be signed by the taxpayer. Also, list the name and address of each reporting agent written authority is revoked.

Withdrawing from reporting authority. A reporting agent can withdraw from authority by filing a statement with the IRS, either on paper or using a delete process. The statement must be signed by the designee agent (if filed on paper) and identify the name and address of the taxpayer and authorizations from which the reporting agent is withdrawing. For information on the delete authority see Pub. 1474.

Specific Instructions

Line 15

Use the "YYYY" located for annual tax request Use the "MMYYYY" materials for authority tax request where "MM" is the ending month of the quarter the named reporting Agent is authorized to sign and file tax returns for the accounts. For example, enter "092006" on the and for "941" to indicate you are authorizing the receive designee agent to sign and file Form 941 for the July–September quarter of 2006 and subsequent deposits.

Peacekeeping

Peacekeeping is a technique developed by the United Nations which does not have a simple definition—the term itself is not even found in the UN Charter. In his 1992 report to the Security Council, UN Secretary-General Boutros Boutros Ghali defined peacekeeping as:

> the deployment of a United Nations presence in the field, hitherto with the consent of all the parties concerned, normally involving United Nations military and/or police personnel and frequently civilians as well. Peacekeeping is a technique that expands the possibilities for both the prevention of conflict and the making of peace.

Although the first peacekeeping mission was established in 1948 in the Middle East, the first deployment of a peacekeeping military force was in 1956 in response to the Suez Crisis. In Chapter Five we learned how Canada played an important role in the development of this peacekeeping force. Since that time there have been 56 United Nations peacekeeping operations.

Peacekeeping was initially developed as a means to resolve conflict between states. This was achieved by deploying unarmed or lightly armed military personnel from a number of countries between the armed forces of the states that were formerly at war. In these circumstances, a ceasefire would be in place and the parties to the conflict would have agreed to allow the UN forces to be present. Peacekeepers were not part of the conflict; rather, they observed the ceasefire from the ground.

THE CHANGING ROLE OF PEACEKEEPING

With the end of the Cold War, there was a dramatic shift in the role of UN peacekeeping.

More Missions

After the end of the Cold War, there was increasing demand for UN peacekeeping missions. Thirty-five peace missions have been initiated since 1990. As of 2004, fourteen of these missions are ongoing. At the peak of UN activity in the mid 1990s, there were nearly 80,000 UN peacekeepers deployed around the globe.

Peacekeeping Within States

Rather than keeping the peace "between" states, peacekeepers were now charged with creating the peace "within" states, often in situations of civil war. In contrast to the traditional role of patrolling borders, in these situations there may not be a clear area of conflict, but rather, fighting is often spread throughout a country's entire territory.

More Actors

After the Cold War, peacekeeping came to include organizations other than the United Nations. Regional organizations such as NATO, the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, and the Organization for African Unity are also involved.

Peace "Making"

Peacekeeping is no longer a matter of simply standing between two armies and keeping the peace. It has increasingly become a matter of creating a peace where none exists.

Changing Role of Peacekeepers

Whereas traditional peacekeeping tasks involved patrolling contested borders and unarmed monitoring of ceasefires, modern peacekeeping

⚠ Caution

Proper Handling of the Print Head and Ink Tanks

Handle the Print Head and ink tanks of this product properly, observing the cautions noted below. Improper handling may result in malfunction or other problems in this product as well as damaging the Print Head or ink tanks.

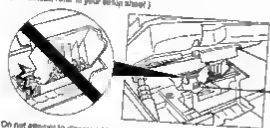
Note:
The below illustrations may be different from your product.

1) When you install the Print Head in the product, insert the Print Head into the Print Head Holder carefully not to knock it against the sides of the holder. Also be sure to install it in a well-lit environment.
(For details, refer to your setup sheet.)



2) Do not attempt to disassemble or modify the Print Head and ink tanks.
3) Do not handle the Print Head and ink tanks roughly such as applying them excessive pressure or dropping them.
4) Do not use or wipe the Print Head and ink tanks.

5) Once you have installed the Print Head and ink tanks, do not remove them unnecessarily.

airmon-ng

The only one I've got there is labeled rax. Yours may be different, take note of the label and write it down. Then hook an in, substitute it in everywhere a command includes (interface).

Now, run the following four commands. Grab the output that you'll use in the second to last one.

airmon-ng stop interface
ifconfig a > tee down
macchanger --mac 00 \ 22:33:44 rx rxmacaddress
a -macchanger start interface

If you don't get the same results from airodump as pictured here, most likely your network adapter won't work with this particular crack. If you do, you've successfully "faked" a new MAC address on your network interface. 00:1 :22:33:44:55.

Now it's time to pick your network. Run:

ifconfig-mon0 down

To see a list of wireless networks around you, when you see the one you want, hit Ctrl+C to stop the list. Highlight the row pertaining to the network or router, and take note of two things. Its BSSID and its channel (in the column labeled CH). Be aware some networks may use the BSSID of the network you want in order to fake MAC encryption (in the ESSID column, not WPA or anything else).

Random Stuff Sent From Your Fax Machine
Fax something interesting toll free to 1-888-477-1655 or 1-503-200-1300

To the right are pages that folks have faxed us recently. Click any thumbnail to see the large version and rate it for interestingness.

You can fax something interesting to 1-888-477-1655 (your boss will never notice, maybe) or 1-503-200-1300 (long distance to Portland, Oregon) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (It's a toll-free number if you're in the USA.) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single-page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

Privacy Policy: We hate spam and junk faxes, and will absolutely not send you any unsolicited e-mail or faxes. We won't share your information with marketers or anyone else.

How can I locate and verify my email settings?

For All Applications, All Operating Systems, and All Domains

Applications: Select one | Operating Systems: Select one | Platforms:

When you set up your email client, you may need to check the email settings to make sure they are set up to work with your AT&T Yahoo! service. We've compiled a chart of AT&T Yahoo! mail server (POP, SMTP) and news server (NNTP) information for your convenience.

Please Note: The POP and SMTP settings have recently changed for AT&T Yahoo! Members. For more information on this change and how it could your client email program, please review AT&T Yahoo! Email Settings Change for POP and SMTP (e.g. Outlook/Outlook Express).

To locate and verify your email settings in Outlook Express:

1. Click on the Tools menu in Outlook Express.
2. Click on Accounts.
3. Click on the Mail tab.
4. Select your AT&T Yahoo! email account and click on the Properties button.
5. Click on the Servers tab.
6. Verify these settings:
   - For "My incoming mail server is a ____ server," the field contains POP3
   - The Incoming mail (POP3) and Outgoing mail (SMTP) fields contain the correct mail server settings.
   - The Account name field contains your full AT&T Yahoo! email address (e.g., YourName@att.net)
   - The box next to Log on using Secure Password Authentication is NOT checked
   - The My server requires authentication box is checked
7. Click on the Advanced tab.
8. Verify these settings:

   Note: When updating the secure sever settings, check SSL checkbox first, then update the port number setting.

   - Under Outgoing mail (SMTP) should be port 465 and the box next to This server requires a secure connection (SSL) is checked.
   - Under Incoming mail (POP3) should be port 995 and the box next to This server requires a secure connection (SSL) is checked
9. Click OK.
10. Click Close.

Buckwheat Zydeco

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Buckwheat Zydeco is the stage name of Stanley Dural, Jr (born November 14, 1947) an American accordionist and zydeco musician. He is one of the few zydeco artists to achieve mainstream success. His music group is formally billed as Buckwheat Zydeco and Ils Son Partis Band, but often they perform as merely Buckwheat Zydeco.

The New York Times says "Stanley 'Buckwheat' Dural leads one of the best bands in America. A down home and high-powered celebration, meaty and muscular with a fine tuned sense of dynamics —propulsive rhythms, incendiary performances."[1] USA Today calls him "a zydeco trailblazer."[2]

Buckwheat Zydeco has performed with a large number of famous musicians from Eric Clapton (with whom Buckwheat also recorded) and U2 to The Boston Pops. The band performed at the closing ceremonies of the 1996 Summer Olympics to a worldwide audience of three billion people. Buckwheat performed for President Clinton twice, celebrating both of his inaugurations. The band has appeared on the Late Show with David Letterman, CNN, The Today Show, MTV, NBC News, CBS Morning News, National Public Radio's Weekend Edition.

Hola, Amigo!
That's all the Spanish I know, so don't come at me with any jibber jabber. I'm just testing this junky fax machine that I found in a ditch beside the dumpground road. It had a dead monkey in it, but I shook it out.

Peace, Love and Pot!

Victoria and Abdul Movie Presentation – 11/16/2017

Basic Info

- Judi Dench was Queen Victoria
  It's the true story of a friendship in the later years of Queen Victoria's rule Abdul Karim a young clerk travels from India to participate in the Queen's Golden Jubilee As the Queen questions the restrictions of her position the two establish a devoted alliance with a loyalty to each other that her family household and inner circle all attempt to destroy As the friendship deepens the Queen begins to see a changing world through new eyes and reclaims her humanity
  It is directed by Stephen Frears who also directed Florence Foster Jenkins Philomena and The Queen (about Princess Diana & the Queen
- Released on October 6
- Box office gross so far is about $21 million domestic $39 million foreign and $60 million worldwide
- Couldn't find any budget information
- Rotten tomatoes – critics 66% audience 72%
- A Hindustani Times critic called it a "disgustingly distorted view of British rule"
- The Times of India gave it a very good review
- How many liked it and why?
  Great performance by Judy Dench (#2 years old)
  Funny and touching
  Wonderful photography
  Costumes
- How many disliked it and why?
- Filmed at original locations in Scotland England and India
- 10 years ago Dench played Victoria in "Mrs Brown" This is about a Scotsman who entered her life after her husband died She was depressed but he pushed her to live again Their friendship also caused a major scandal

The Actual story

- The 14-year relationship depicted in today's film is essentially true
- The events are true but not necessarily the dialogue As they said in the opening credits it's "Based on real events mostly"
- Her relationship with Abdul was so controversial and scandalous that when she died her family deleted Abdul's existence from royal history
  Victoria's son Edward had any letters between the two found on the royal premises burned
  Abdul was evicted from the home the queen had given him and deported back to India

Hail Mary:

Today begins the 90th Anniversary of the apparition of the Virgin of Fatima :

When you receive this email say a Hail Mary and ask for a special favor.

"Hail Mary, full of grace. The Lord is with thee. Blessed art thou among women and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death, Amen.? (your request)

Please do not break the Novena , send it to 12 people you think deserve justice, peace, love, health, prosperity and truth. When you are down to nothing, God is up to something. This has been traveling since 5/13/07!

Assay Description and EDTA assay

Herceptin® (trastuzumab) is a monoclonal antibody that binds specifically to the extracellular domain of the human epidermal growth factor receptor 2 (HER2) protein. Overexpression of this receptor is found in some breast cancers and is a predictive factor for response to Herceptin®. Herceptin® is indicated for the treatment of breast cancer patients who have metastatic disease or have undergone adjuvant therapy. Patients for treatment with Herceptin® should be selected for HER2 testing based on specific criteria. Herceptest™ is a qualitative assay for the detection of HER2 protein overexpression in formalin-fixed, paraffin-embedded breast cancer tissue using the Dako Autostainer Plus. Herceptest™ is performed using the Dako EnVision™ FLEX+ Visualization System. Herceptest™ is intended for use as an aid to the assessment of breast cancer patients for treatment with Herceptin®. Herceptest™ should be performed only in laboratories that have been trained in the Herceptest™ procedure. Herceptest™ is not intended for use with other antibody or treatment regimens.

Special Salmon Steaks

allrecipes

Rated ★★★★½

Submitted By: Ruby Williams

Prep Time: 5 Minutes
Cook Time: 15 Minutes

Ready In: 20 Minutes
Servings: 2

"AFTER our children were married and gone, I prepared this entree often for my husband and me, especially on our anniversary. It was one of our favorites. We found that one of the nicest ways to enjoy each other's company was to have a great meal together." Ruby Williams, Bogalusa, Louisiana

INGREDIENTS

2 (8 ounce) salmon steaks
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 green onion, sliced
1 tablespoon minced fresh parsley
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/8 teaspoon lemon-pepper seasoning

DIRECTIONS

1. Place salmon in a lightly greased 8-in. square baking dish. Top with butter and lemon juice. Combine onion, parsley, garlic salt and lemon pepper; sprinkle over salmon. Bake, uncovered, at 400 degrees F for 15-20 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork.

Writing the Summary

When writing the summary there are three main requirements.

1. The summary should cover the original as a whole.
2. The material should be presented in a neutral fashion
3. The summary should be a condensed version of the material presented in your own words

* * Also do not include anything that does not appear in the original. (Do not include your own comments or evaluation) and
Be sure to identify your source

For example

In his paper "Global Implications of Patent Law Variation," Koji Suzuki (1991) states that lack of consistency in the world's patent laws is a serious problem. In most of the world patent ownership is given to the inventor that is first to file for a patent However the United States maintains a first to invent policy In view of this patent ownership can change depending on the country Multiple patent ownership can result in economic problems however most striking is the international tension it causes The fact that the United States does not recognize patent ownership in other countries, in violation of the Paris Convention on Industrial Properties, has prompted the World Intellectual Properties Organization (WIPO) to push the United States to review its existing patent law principles.

Printing Instructions

Be sure to check out the new KODAK EASYSHARE All-in-One printers and see where you can save up to 50% on everything you print. Visit us today at www.kodak.com/go/aio

Note: If you have a KODAK EASYSHARE All-in-One Printer you won't need these printing instructions. KODAK printers automatically optimize paper, ink and printer for a great KODAK print.

① Load Paper

Adjust the width of the paper tool if necessary and load the printer with paper according to the printer manufacturer's instructions. Select print size and quality—only if appropriate with your software application. Note: Avoid getting fingerprints on the paper.

② Choose Your Printing Method

Option 1: Menu Printer Settings

Depending on the software application you are using, select Properties, Options or Setup to access the choices offered in the printer driver. The chart contains basic settings that can be selected for the most common printers. Depending on your printer, further adjustments may be necessary to obtain the results you desire. If your printer is not shown or if you wish to make more advanced settings, please refer to the instructions which follow it.

Printer Manufacturer	Media or Photo Setting	Quality Setting
Canon
iP4200 5200 5500 MP600, 950	Matte Photo Plus	High
Most other Canon models	Photo Paper Plus Glossy	High
Epson
Stylus Photo 820, R220, R240	Matte Paper-Heavyweight	PhotoEnhance
Most other Epson models	Premium Semigloss Photo Paper	Best Photo
Hewlett-Packard
6440, 5746, 7010	HP Everyday Photo Paper Semi-gloss	Best
845, 970	Plain Paper	Best
Most other HP models	Other Photo Paper	Best
Lexmark
Colorjet Z models	Coated Paper	Best
All Lexmark models	Photo Paper	Best or Photo
Sharp
924, 944	Matte/Glossy	Photo 4800 dpi
All other Sharp models	Photo Paper	Best

Option 2: Advanced Manual Printer Settings

For best results you will find a comprehensive, up-to-date list of printers with complete printer setting details on our website: www.kodak.com/go/printersettings. Depending on the category application you are using, select Properties, Options or Setup to access the printer driver and make the appropriate printer settings.

③ Print

Select print size and quantity—only if applicable with your software application, then click "Print."

Your finished prints can be handled immediately; however, for optimal image quality and color permanence and prints left exposed, it is advisable for 24 hours prior to obtaining, framing, or storing. To achieve the longest print life, your prints should be displayed or stored in a glass frame, archival-quality photo album, or photo album.

Note: Store unused paper in the package, keeping the package flat. Avoid extremes of temperature and humidity when storing photos or unused paper.

Printer settings are developed using printer manufacturer's inks.

In addition to following good study habits, there are steps you can take during an exam to ensure you choose the correct answer

- Read the question carefully! The most common exam errors occur when students fail to accurately or thoroughly read each question.

- Read all of the choices. Don't stop reading all of your options simply because you think you've already found the correct choice

- If you are struggling with a question, try reposing each option as a true-or-false question.

- Even if you are unfamiliar with the question, try to use common sense or logic when selecting the best possible answer

- Take notice of all-or-nothing words or phrases. Examples include words such as "Every," "Always" and "All." These are less likely to be correct than words that offer room for exceptions or alternatives such as "Some," "Many" or "Few."

- Answer questions in the order they come. If you spend a great deal of time skipping around, you are likely to mistakenly leave some questions unanswered. If you are stuck on a question, put a mark off to the side and come back to it when you have answered the rest of the questions

- Guess! Nothing ventured, nothing gained, so never leave any question on a multiple-choice test blank.

1 Study Regularly

- The Two Hour Rule: The general rule is that for every hour of time you spend in class, you should spend two hours of your own time studying the material.

- Plan Your Study Time. The amount of time you need may vary, but you should set aside time each week for reviewing study materials. At the beginning of week, consider the material you need to cover and estimate how long you will need to complete your assignments, readings, and reviews.

- Schedule Study Time. Ideally you should schedule a specific block of time to devote to each subject. Even when you are busy, set aside short periods of time each day to concentrate on your class work.

Dear Sir,

May I introduce myself as Mr Martin Sipho a financial consultant working with a financial institution based in South Africa I have access to $35M USD which I want to use for investment in your country The fund was kept in the custody of a bank in South Africa by the Late President of Guinea LANSANA CONTE who died in 2008. Guinea is a country in West Africa The fund was deposited as an Investment Fund in 2007 in a private facility of the bank with an open beneficiary It is now 9 years that the fund has been with the bank and 8 years after the death of the depositor without anybody coming up for the claims I honestly seek your assistance to move this fund into your custody for safekeeping as the depositor have no known next of kin. I have all the documents necessary to claim the funds as I am directly involved in the deposit, All I need to do is to make you the beneficiary of the funds by filling in your name in the appropriate document and immediately move the funds out of its present place in your name to your account for safe keeping I will use the funds for investment purposes in your country This process will not cost you any money upfront. We decided to do this as we know the circumstances surrounding the deposit and knowing very well that the depositor of the fund will not come back to claim the funds. I will send to you all the documents relating to this deposit and direct you on how to apply for the fund I will give you further details when I receive your response I will ensure all procedures to see the successful completion of this project I assure you that this transaction is risk free Be rest assured that we will not encounter any difficulty as the person directly involved in approving the release of the funds is also participating in this transaction This is legal and we propose 70% to us and 30% to you sharing pattern once the fund is transferred to your account. My telephone number is +27733783736 My email address is martin@cityinvestmentsa com My fax number is +27866541027 Please keep this very confidential Let me know if you will be of assistance

Yours Sincerely

Mr Martin Sipho

Section 1 Introduction to Summary of Benefits

Thank you for your interest in the AARP MedicareRx Plans. Our plans are offered by UnitedHealthcare® Insurance Company or UnitedHealthcare Insurance Company of New York for New York residents. A Medicare Prescription Drug Plan that contracts with the Federal government. This Summary of Benefits tells you some features of our plans. It doesn't list every drug we cover, every limitation or exclusion. To get a complete list of our benefits please call the AARP MedicareRx Plans and ask for the "Evidence of Coverage."

You have choices in your Medicare Prescription Drug Coverage

As a Medicare beneficiary, you can choose from different Medicare prescription drug coverage options. One option is to get prescription drug coverage through a Medicare Prescription Drug Plan, like the AARP MedicareRx Plans. Another option is to get your prescription drug coverage through a Medicare Advantage Plan that offers prescription drug coverage. You make the choice.

How can I compare my options?

The charts in this booklet list some important drug benefits. You can use this Summary of Benefits to compare the benefits offered by the AARP MedicareRx Plans to the benefits offered by other Medicare Prescription Drug Plans or Medicare Advantage Plans with prescription drug coverage.

Where are the AARP MedicareRx Plans available?

The service area for these plans includes:

Pennsylvania, West Virginia

You must live in one of these areas to join these plans. If you move out of the state or county where you currently live to a state listed above, you must call Customer Service to update your information. If you don't, you may be disenrolled from the AARP MedicareRx Plans. If you move to a state not listed above, please call Customer Service to find out if UnitedHealthcare has a plan in your new state or county.

There is more than one plan listed in this Summary of Benefits. If you are enrolled in one plan and wish to switch to another plan, you may do so only during certain times of the year. Please call Customer Service for more information.

Who is eligible to join?

You can join these plans if you are entitled to Medicare Part A and/or enrolled in Medicare Part B and live in the service area.

If you are enrolled in an MA coordinated care (HMO or PPO) plan or an MA PFFS plan that includes Medicare prescription drugs, you may not enroll in a PDP unless you disenroll from the HMO, PPO or MA PFFS plan.

Enrollees in a private fee-for-service plan (PFFS) that does not provide Medicare prescription drug coverage, or an MA Medical Savings Account (MSA) plan may enroll in a PDP. Enrollees in an 1876 Cost plan may enroll in a PDP.

Where can I get my prescriptions?

The AARP MedicareRx Plans have formed a network of pharmacies. You must use a network pharmacy to receive plan benefits. We will not pay for your prescriptions if you use an out-of-network pharmacy, except in certain cases.

The AARP MedicareRx Plans have a list of preferred pharmacies. At these pharmacies, you may get your drugs at a lower copay or coinsurance. A non-preferred pharmacy is still a network

Hello!

This is a sample test file which is being sent to you as per your request via the Interpage FreeFax(sm) Service!

This service is intended to provide a preliminary evaluation as to the quality and timeliness of Interpage's subscription fax service(s).

If you review the cover sheet which was transmitted with this fax, you will note the first letter of the name you had indicated in the TO: field of the FreeFax request page. This letter serves to correlate the fax request which you had sent with this trial fax transmission result.

This file is a sample MS Word file; many other file types are supported

If you have any questions regarding Interpage's OutFax(sm) Service, including the FaxUnlimited(sm) service with no-per or per-minute charges, please feel free to contact us at:

Phone +1 (510) 315-2750 9AM to 5:30 PM M-F Pacific Time
E-Mail trial-support@interpage.net
Web http://www.interpage.net

Thank you for your interest!

Notes: Due to the miscellaneous use of the FreeFax service, Interpage will no longer transmit personal and test messages; only the above-fixed sample message will be transmitted. You may establish a trial account for evaluation purposes by filling out the form located at http://www.interpage.net/free-fax-trial.html, omitting any billing information, and clicking on the calling a valid e-mail address and contact telephone number. Please call (510) 315-2750 for additional help.

2. This fax is not a solicitation nor is it an offer. It was sent by a visitor to this page's web site who entered your destination number as a recipient of this test fax. A single fax/fax-on may not receive more than two faxes in a given week; however, if you find the person is sending you faxes in a continuous and abusive manner, please call us at (510) 315-2750 and we will block your fax number from the FreeFax service.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it first to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one page fax to 1-855-377-1939 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax.Tax — it's a fax web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, you'll use a web browser to FaxZero, this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Syllabus

Note: This course will run for six weeks. Two lessons will be released each week for the six-week duration of the course. You do not have to be present when each lesson is released. Instead, you can take up to two weeks to complete each lesson after it is released.

Important: In order to keep this material as up-to-date and informative as possible, I reserve the right to make changes to the course content, description, and syllabus at any time and without warning.

A new session of each course we offer starts on the second or third Wednesday of every month. You may enroll in more than one course at a time, unless one course is the prerequisite to another. If you are enrolling in a series of two or more courses, please be sure to space the start date for each course at least two months apart.

Week One

Wednesday | Lesson 01

Lesson 1 starts you on the path to troubleshooting PCs like a pro. You'll first look at input devices, or how you tell the computer to do stuff. In the second part of the lesson, you'll explore the pieces that do the work inside the computer. The final section describes the output devices where the computer communicates to you.

Friday - Lesson 02

This lesson will take you through the troubleshooting process. It's not a guide to solving specific computer problems, but the steps explained here will enable you to tackle any computer problems you might encounter. The three main steps are identifying the problem, testing solutions, and completing the process.

Week Two

Wednesday - Lesson 03

Lesson 3 introduces you to some of the basic components and tools of an operating system. First, you'll find out about the primary functions of operating systems. You'll then explore the major parts of Microsoft Windows, including the Desktop and Windows Explorer. You'll finish the lesson by learning about the most important troubleshooting tools for fixing operating systems.

Friday - Lesson 04

Lesson 4 leads you through the basic steps of troubleshooting an operating system, including startup, video, sound, and application errors. You'll look at tools like Safe Mode and the System Configuration Utility and learn about driver rollback. You'll end this lesson by learning how to troubleshoot audio/visual errors.

Week Three

Wednesday - Lesson 05

Persuasive Business Letter: Revising

Name

Rachel showed her letter to her classmate Harrison. After listening to his suggestions, Rachel made some changes to her letter.

October 18 2005

Mr. James Radcliffe
Bacon Book and Gift Company
9600 East Bearcreek Lane
Cheyenne, WY 82009

Dear Mr. Radcliffe

My parents and I are traveling to Oregon next month to visit my older sister. ~~She has a new little baby named Samuel.~~ She and her husband have a church there. They would like to parvide good Christian books for their people. They are starting a church library, and they would like to find used or damaged books to put in the libary. Do you have any stuff that you could donate? We would like both children and adult books.

Rachel added a sentence to tell her purpose for writing.

She removed a fact that was not necessary to include.

Rachel added more precise wording and added oral facts to tell exactly what kind of books she was looking for.

You can fax something interesting to 1-866-877-1655 (yeah, toll free!) or 1-503-270-1388 (long distance to Portland, Oregon) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (It's a toll-free number if you're in the USA.) Keep it clean & legal.

Junior Summer Reading Assignment – Class of 2012
IB English HL 1 – Bounce/Ferrara

For this year's summer reading assignment, you will read two works. One of the works is the first in the junior IB curriculum, and the other is a work of your choice.

Objectives of summer reading

1. Students will exercise their brains by reading at least two books over the summer
2. Students will start school prepared to discuss the first text of the IB English curriculum.
3. Students will (hopefully) enjoy reading an assigned text and a text of their choice.

Work one – your first IB text

Life of Pi, by Yann Martel published in 2003

Life of Pi is a book about a boy who becomes stranded on a boat with a zebra, a hyena, an orangutan, and a Bengal tiger named Richard Parker. The first 80 or so pages may seem slow to you, but once you get into it, it is a pretty exciting and quick read!

We'll spend the first two or three weeks of school working with this text. The assignments that you complete will require you to have already read the entire work. Enjoy this book even though it's a "school book." It's a bestseller and it's modern. What more could you want in a book that's assigned to you? ☺ not final...

During the first week of school, we will have a brief discussion followed by a literature quiz so you can demonstrate that you actually read the novel. It wouldn't hurt to have a few notes so you remember some details for class discussion. Be an active reader! The grade will count in IB English

Work two – a book of your choice (fiction or otherwise)

Choose a book, any book! Select something that you're interested in reading: a novel, a poetry collection, a historical work, or a book about science, sports, or otherwise. Read it and enjoy it! Be prepared to share a bit about the book with your classmates.

You may use something that you've read before (great opportunity to resurrect an old favorite!), but you are on your honor to actually read it again this summer.

See the list of recommendations that we have put together for you. You are not required to select anything from the list, but in case you are looking for something good to read, there you go.

The assessment

You will give an overview of the book you read to the class. You should be prepared to share the title, the author, a brief summary, and a review. Be prepared to answer questions from your classmates and me about the book. Details about the assignment will be provided on the first day of school. The grade will count in IB English

Form W-4 (2010)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2010 is invalid if you can be claimed as a dependent on another person's 2010 tax return. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note. You cannot claim exemption from withholding if (a) your income exceeds $950 and includes more than $300 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends) and (b) another person can claim you as a dependent on his or her tax return.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheet on page 2 further adjusts your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earner/two-job situations.

Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For regular wages withholding must be based on allowances you claimed and may not be a flat amount or percentage of wages.

Head of household. Generally, you may claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependents or some other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding, for information on converting your credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may have too little taxes withheld.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 919 for details.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 919 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2010. See Pub. 919, especially if your earnings exceed $130,000 (Single) or $180,000 (Married).

Personal Allowances Worksheet (Keep for your records.)

A	Enter "1" for yourself if no one else can claim you as a dependent • You are single and have only one job; or	A
B	Enter "1" if: • You are married, have only one job, and your spouse does not work; or • Your wages from a second job or your spouse's wages (or the total of both) are $1,500 or less.	B
C	Enter "1" for your spouse. But, you may choose to enter "-0-" if you are married and have either a working spouse or more than one job (Entering "-0-" may help you avoid having too little tax withheld.)	C
D	Enter number of dependents (other than your spouse or yourself) you will claim on your tax return	D
E	Enter "1" if you will file as head of household on your tax return (see conditions under Head of household above)	E
F	Enter "1" if you have at least $1,800 of child or dependent care expenses for which you plan to claim a credit (Note. Do not include child support payments. See Pub. 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses, for details.)	F
G	Child Tax Credit (including additional child tax credit). See Pub. 972, Child Tax Credit, for more information. • If your total income will be between $61,000 and $84,000 ($90,000 and $119,000 if married), enter "1" for each eligible one plus "1" additional if you have six or more eligible children	G
H	Add lines A through G and enter total here. Note. This may be different from the number of exemptions you claim on your tax return. ▶	H

For Accuracy, complete all worksheets that apply

- If you plan to itemize or claim adjustments to income and want to reduce your withholding, see the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet on page 2
- If you have more than one job or are married and you and your spouse both work and the combined earnings from all jobs exceed $ 37,000 ($ 53,000 if married), see the Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet on page 2 to avoid having too little tax withheld.
- If neither of the above situations applies, stop here and enter the number from line H on line 5 of Form W-4 below.

Cut here and give Form W-4 to your employer. Keep the top part for your records.

"I'm focused on making sure the economy is working for everybody for the entire American family," Obama said Saturday in an uncommon preview of his speech, offered up in an online video to his supporters late Saturday afternoon. The president announced that the economy would be the main topic of his speech, a nod to how important that issue is to the country's standing and his own as well

At the halfway point of his term, Obama said the economy is on firmer footing than it was two years ago: It is growing again, albeit slowly while the stock market is rising, and corporate profits are slumbing. But with the unemployment rate stubbornly stuck above 9 percent, Obama will signal a shift Tuesday from short-term stabilization policies toward ones focused on job creation and longer term growth.

Obama offered no details on specific proposals he will call for in his address, though he has offered hints in recent weeks

Perhaps the clearest sense in an overlooked speech in North Carolina last month, one that will likely serve as a template of what the nation is about to hear. Obama said then that making the U.S. more competitive means investing in a more educated work force, committing more to research and technology and improving everything from highways and airports to high-speed internet.

In his weekly radio and Internet address Saturday Obama also highlighted free trade as a way to increase U.S. exports and put Americans to work

"That's how we'll create jobs today," Obama said. "That's how we'll make America more competitive tomorrow. And that's how we'll win the future."

Obama's challenge will be to find the money and political will to spend it, at a time when he's pledged to reduce spending and tackle the mountainous debt. In his preview to supporters Saturday, Obama said he would emphasize fiscal restraint Tuesday, but didn't go into detail, saying only that any spending cuts should be done in a "responsible way."

The president is under growing pressure to tackle the debt from the public and lawmakers, particularly some newly elected Republicans who ran on pledges to cut spending. Obama, too, has made spending cuts a priority, setting up a bipartisan fiscal commission which recommended tax hikes and cuts to entitlement programs -- both efforts that would likely be a hard sell with the American people.

Obama will speak Tuesday to a Congress changed both by Republican wins in the November elections and the attempted assassination of one of its own, Democratic Rep. Gabrielle Giffords who was shot in the head two weeks ago during an event in her district in Tucson, Ariz.

Since then, the president has appealed for more civility in politics, and in a nod to that ideal, some Democrats and Republicans will break with tradition and sit alongside each other in the House chamber Tuesday night. Obama hinted Saturday that he would build on that theme during the State of the Union, tying the country's economic success to bipartisan cooperation.

"We're up to it, as long as we come together as a people--Republicans, Democrats, Independents--as long as we focus on what binds us together as a people, as long as we're willing to find common ground even as we're having some very vigorous debates," Obama said.

The White House sees competitiveness as a framework Republicans could support. GOP lawmakers traditionally have backed the types of trade deals and research-and-development efforts that Obama is promoting. Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., appeared to give the president an opening when he said last week in a speech that "my advice to my colleagues is if the president is willing to do what we would do anyway, then we should say yes."

Yet for all the talk of bipartisanship, Obama will deliver Tuesday's address at a time when his White House is shifting into re-election mode. Obama plans to file papers to formally run for re-election around March, and several aides are moving to Chicago to run the 2012 campaign. Saturday's video preview to supporters signaled a return to the campaign-style outreach Obama's team mastered in 2008, and underscored his need to rally his base around his agenda

I propose to change the system so that when density card output is requested, plotted densities are punched out. In the normal case these would simply be the average densities. If the test code calls for E.N.D. conversion, it would be the E.N.D. densities that are punched out. If the test breaks down, e.g. because of range check failure, we would get cards punched out for individual strips, since individuals are plotted in that case.

I would appreciate your comments on this proposal by January 2, 1971

A small tabletop experiment for a direct measurement of the speed of light

Kouichiro Aoki* and Takehisa Ishii†
Dept. of Physics, Keio University, 4—1—1 Hiyoshi, Kouhoku-ku, Yokohama 223-8521 Japan
(Dated: February 1 2006)

A small tabletop experiment for a direct measurement of the speed of light to an accuracy of few percent is described. The experiment is accessible to a wide spectrum of undergraduate students in particular to students not majoring in science or engineering. The experiment may further include a measurement of the index of refraction of a sample. Details of the setup and equipment are given. Results and limitations of the experiment are analyzed partly based on our experience in employing the experiment in our student laboratories. Safety considerations are also discussed.

I. INTRODUCTION

The speed of light is a basic physics quantity of importance in many areas of physics, be it astrophysics or relativity. Therefore it is highly desirable to have an experiment to measure the speed of light that is easy to set up and any student can perform in this note we provide details of an experiment for directly measuring the speed of light in air. This small tabletop experiment can be performed quite satisfactorily by undergraduate students of doubt such disciplines as science or non-engineering majors and perhaps also by high school students. The principle of the experiment dates back at least a few hundred years to that of Galileo. We obtain the speed of light from the time of flight essentially by measuring the time the light takes to travel a certain distance and back. The experiment utilizes a pulsed laser and an oscilloscope to measure the time of flight.

The requirements for our experiment were as follows.

- The concept of the experiment is quite comprehensible to non-science and non-engineering majors.
- The optical path is in air and is visible.
- The experiment can be performed on a tabletop.
- The students are able to safely conduct the experiment without difficulty.
- The measurement is reasonably accurate, but does not sacrifice clarity for precision.
- The cost of the experimental set-up is inexpensive.

We have been able to satisfy all the requirements above. To our knowledge, standard experimental textbooks do not contain expositions of an experiment such as ours. Many experiments to measure the speed of light have been presented, including a number of interesting time of flight measurements[1,2,3,4,5,6,7]. However, we could not find any that satisfied all the requirements. In particular, most of the samples experiments require a large space, which we can not afford.

The purpose of this note is pragmatic. Our objective is to provide the details of the experiment to a wide audience so that it can be performed at other institutions if so desired. The electronic part of the experiment is original and we provide its full details below. The components needed to build the light source and the detector are quite inexpensive. Experiments that are different, but similar in spirit, seem to be performed at other institutions[8,9,10].

Click for enlargement and credits

The Declaration of Independence

Almost everyone knows that Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence. However did you know that, like most people who write something, he wrote at least one rough draft? This is an example of what's left of the earliest known draft of the Declaration. You can see that Jefferson heavily edited his first draft before he prepared a clean or "fair" copy that became the basis of the "original rough draught." The other representatives from the 13 colonies selected Jefferson to write the Declaration because they all agreed he was the best writer. Do you know any of the words of the Declaration of Independence by heart?

Non-Qualified Annuity Death Claim Election

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company

To process your claim as quickly as possible, we need personal information about the beneficiary as well as information about the deceased annuitant or owner. Each beneficiary must submit a separate document to comply with IRS regulations and Federal law.

- Please print all information and sign on page 6 in black or blue ink.
- A certified copy of the Death Certificate is required for all claim transactions. (One per decedent)
- Each beneficiary must complete and sign a separate Beneficiary Claim Form. Originals only - faxes will not be accepted. IF THE BENEFICIARY HAS HAD A NAME CHANGE - We will require proof of the name change, such as a marriage certificate, divorce decree or other court issued document showing the change of name.
- Please be advised, certain State Tax/Revenue Departments require that we notify and obtain their consent ("Notice and Consent") prior to disbursing beneficiary proceeds from an annuity contract. Please consult the Department of Revenue for the decedent's state of residence to determine if Notice and Consent forms are applicable.
- Additional requirements will be necessary for specific beneficiary types:
  1. Estate: Court-certified Letters of Testamentary will be required. Also, the executor must obtain a Tax ID Number/EIN for the estate.
  2. Trust: A completed and signed Trustee Certification for Death Claim Benefits form will be required. Note: If the tax ID Number for a grantor trust is the same as the deceased grantor's Social Security Number a new Tax ID Number/EIN must be obtained for the trust (with the exception of co-grantors).
  3. Minor or Conservatorship: Letters of Guardianship or Conservatorship, certified by the Clerk of Court will be required.
  4. Corporate: A copy of the Corporate Resolution (with Corporate Seal affixed) reflecting authorized signer(s) is required, as well as the Corporate Secretary's statement of authenticity.
  5. Power Of Attorney: A copy of the Power of Attorney (POA) Document and a completed Certification of Attorney in Fact form are required.

Note: We reserve the right to request additional information we may deem necessary to settle the claim.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine..and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1 888-877 1655 (a toll-free number in the United States) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Jax Tax — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site Click the thumbnail to see a large version

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax

Procedure:

After appropriate General anesthesia was administered, the patient was positioned supine on the lithotripsy table. The stones were localized under fluoroscopy in both craniocaudal and anteroposterior views. A total of 2500 were delivered to the 0.9 Upper pole renal 2500 shockwaves were delivered at a rate of 225 and 235. There was excellent fragmentation of the 0.9 Upper pole renal. The patient was awakened from anesthesia and taken to the recovery room in stable condition.

Disposition: The patient is to follow up in 1 weeks.

1993 BUICK ROADMASTER - $2500 (HARTSVILLE, SC)

Date: 2012-04-28, 7:25AM EDT
Reply to: 4k3p4-2963183178@sale.craigslist.org

This low mileage Buick Roadmaster, V8 5.7 Automatic, is in incredible condition for the year. The car is white with a tan interior. This vehicle has 115,335 miles. It has never been in a wreck. The car comes with Vista roof, 3rd row seat, automatic climate control, power window, power door locks. Act now before it's too late! Rear Wheel Drive, Tires - Front All-Season, Tires - Rear All-Season, Temporary Spare Tire, Aluminum Wheels, Power Steering, ABS: Front Disc/Rear Drum Brakes, Woodgrain Interior Trim, Sun/Moon Roof, Panoramic Roof, Split Bench Seat, Pass-Through Rear Seat, Adjustable Steering Wheel and Remote Trunk Release. A/C, AM/FM Stereo, Front Reading Lamps, Driver Vanity Mirror, Passenger Vanity Mirror, Rear Reading Lamps, Child Safety Locks. Right now: The vehicle is not being driven at the moment, I have a new car car, so I need to sell it quickly. I have routinely changed the oil in this vehicle every 4,000 miles. I am asking $2500.00 dollars for the car, but I would take a BEST OFFER for it. (Phone number 843-206-8749. Ask for Todd)

Title:
How do I factory reset the print server?

Description:

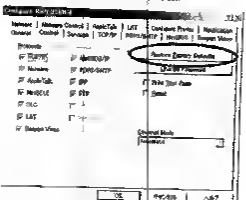
If you wish to reset the print server back to its default factory settings (including all information such as the password and IP address information), please follow these steps.

Before you factory reset the print server, we recommend that you print a configuration page before resetting the print server.

Via the BRAdmin Professional application software:
You can also factory reset the print server using the BRAdmin Professional application, to do that follow these steps:

<For BRAdmin Professional ver.2.xx Users>

1. Start the BRAdmin Professional utility by clicking Start => All Programs or Programs => Brother Administrator Utilities => Brother BRAdmin Professional Utilities => BRAdmin Professional.
2. From the main BRAdmin screen double click the appropriate printer.
3. Enter the print server password (The default password is "access").
4. Click the Control tab.
5. Click the Restore Factory Settings button.
6. Click the OK button when you have read the warning message.
7. The print server will then reset back to its default values.



<For BRAdmin Professional ver.3.xx Users>

1. Start the BRAdmin Professional utility by clicking Start => All Programs or Programs => Brother Administrator Utilities => Brother BRAdmin Professional 3 => BRAdmin Professional 3.
2. From the main BRAdmin screen double click the appropriate machine.
3. Enter the print server password (The default password is "access")
